The Start of Spring is the first of the 24 solar terms, which is considered the beginning of spring and the end of winter. People clearly see the daytime becoming longer and the weather becoming warmer.

As a Chinese saying goes, “The whole year’s work depends on a good start in spring.” In ancient times, this term was of great significance to farmers, as it means the beginning of a whole year’s farming. On the day of the Start of Spring, people eat food related to spring, of which spring pancakes and spring rolls are the most popular.

The Start of Spring lifts the curtain of spring, after which everything turns green and full of vigor. That’s what we should know about the Start of Spring. See you in the next episode.

Paragraph 1:

However, what we saw shocked us. Plastic bags and single-use containers littered the beaches, and we could hardly spot any undersea creature in the once crystal-clear sea. To make matters worse, the water was dark and difficult to see through. Because of the unpleasant smell, we had to cover our noses. With tears blurring our vision, we desperately wondered what had happened to our beloved village. Looking at our anxious faces, Grandfather sighed with his head bowed. It was those visitors who did help us earn more money, but they also brought massive amounts of rubbish, which caused severe pollution and changed our beautiful village completely. While telling us about the changes, Grandfather gazed at the sea, his eyes filled with disappointment and helplessness.

Paragraph 2:

Hearing Grandfather’s words, we couldn’t wait to do something to tackle the pollution. Without hesitation, Sirin and I took off our shoes and walked near the sea to collect the rubbish with our bare hands. Seeing what we were doing, our family and some villagers joined us in our efforts. Some villagers fetched helpful tools, like sticks and nets, which were quite useful in catching the waste. I also pulled out my mobile phone and took photos of the rubbish floating on the surface of the sea. By posting those images on social media, I hoped more people could be aware of the pollution and lend a helping hand too. Much to our relief, our joint efforts made a difference. The seaside became clean once more, and the breeze from the sea smelled fresh and sweet again.

Text 1

W: Have you seen the movie "Hangover"? We went to see it last night.

M: How was it?

W: Jason thought it was extremely amusing, but I was a bit disappointed.

Text 2

M: Susan, I heard you are going to France. How long will you be staying there?

W: A whole year. My aunt lives there. I'm going to do a one-month course at a language school and spend the rest of the time traveling.

Text 3

M: Let's see what drinks you've got for the party tonight.

W: Everything! Beer, wine, soft drinks like Coke, 7-up...you name it, I've got it! Have you ordered the cake?

M: Of course.

Text 4

M: I don't have a library card. Do I need one?

W: You have to have one only to take books out. You're okay if you just sit in one of the rooms reading.

M: Well then, I'll just read here. Thank you.

Text 5

W: I wish I knew the times of the trains to London. But our phone is out of order.

M: Don't worry, Grandma. I'll find out for you on the Internet.

W: Thank you!

Text 6

W: Excuse me. I wonder if you could tell me how to find a place to have my shoes mended. I'm new in town.

M: Ah, there is a good shop not far from here. Go straight ahead and walk about three blocks. I can't remember the name of the shop, but you'll find it. It's near the police station. By the way, you know about the Town Guide? It's a thin book and has all kinds of useful information. You'll find one in any bookstore.

W: Thanks a lot! You've been so helpful. Let's see. Did you say the repair shop was three blocks away from here?

M: Exactly.

W: Thanks again.

Text 7

M: I've been here many times. There are quite a lot of delicious dishes to choose from. What are you thinking of ordering?

W: Well, I haven't decided yet. What are you going to order?

M: I think I'll have the roast chicken. They really make it well here.

W: I had roast chicken yesterday when I ate out with Shelly.

M: Their beef steak is good, too. You can have it served with beans and mushrooms.

W: But I'm not that hungry. Is the fried fish or the seafood salad good?

M: Never had them before. Maybe if you get the steak, we could share.

W: That sounds like a good idea.

Text 8

W: Hello, Mr.White. Do you think it's possible for us to talk sometime today?

M: I'd love to, Miss Wilson, but I've got a pretty tight schedule today. I've got to finish reading the yearly financial report by 10. Then I have to drive to the airport to pick up an advertiser at 11. After that I'll have a meeting with him over lunch.

W: Can I see you after lunch?

M: Well, let me see...after lunch, I have to attend a senior staff meeting, which may last about two hours. Can you come at 3? We can talk for an hour before I meet my sales team at 4.

W: I'm afraid an hour is too short. What about tomorrow morning?

M: 9 to 11, then. I'll wait for you at the office.

W: OK, see you then.

Text 9

W: Hey, Bill. I hear they're going to send you to Germany for the new project.

M: Boy, news travels fast around here! I only got the orders a couple of hours ago. Rachel doesn't even know...

W: Oh, no? So, what are you waiting for? When do you plan to tell her?

M: Well, she is at work at the moment. She doesn't finish until 5. I'll have to wait until tonight now, I suppose.

W: Well, I was posted there before, back in 2008. It's OK—a bit like England, really. At least the weather is similar, and the people aren't much different. The only thing I didn't like is the food, especially the sausages. What do you intend to do about the family? Are you going to take them with you?

M: Well, I'd like to, but I don't know much about the situation at the moment...you know, about schools and all that. But I hope to move the family out there in a couple of months' time. I don't think I want to spend a year and a half out there on my own...I mean, without Rachel and the kids. I mean, I don't see that much of them now as it is.

W: Yeah. Well, that's the way it is normally in our company, I suppose.

M: Yeah. Well, we'll see. Let me pay for the coffee.

W: No, no. I'll pay.

W: Hello, everyone. Welcome to our program. I'm Jenny Jackson. The weather here in Juarez has become unbearable. With no rains for over a year, the city is suffering from unusually hot weather. Some light showers have been forecast since last month, but all of them have been effective in surrounding areas. Summer has not even started yet, but temperatures have reached 40 degrees centigrade in the past three days. And people have been warned not to go out of their homes—not if you walk on foot, at least—between 11 in the morning and 7 in the evening. Little kids and the elderly are the ones who have suffered the most from this extreme heat wave. They must drink water all the time. To help our audience have a better understanding of this extreme weather, we have invited Prof. Torres from University of Mexico to our studio this evening.
