Dear Jack,

I hope this email finds you well. Thank you for entrusting me to host your sister during her upcoming trip to Zhejiang.

Before her arrival, I'd like to know about your sister's personal information such as her appearance and flight number. It would be convenient for me to meet her at the airport. Besides, it would also be helpful if you could provide me with her departure time, her specific requirements or preference, as well as her intended destinations in Zhejiang, which will allow me to offer her a smooth and enjoyable trip.

I am looking forward to meeting your sister.

Best regards,
Li Hua

67. possible version:

Much of the trip passed safely, but there were occasional troubles and many curious onlookers. Some even dashed along the bank to have a closer look at my pumpkin boat. At that very moment, I was rushed towards the bank by the waves made by the passing boats and was almost trapped by an unexpected rock. Feeling extremely embarrassed, I endeavored to paddle and steer around the rock. Some people poked their head out of the crowds, shouting and cheering me on. Eventually I rode out the waves and moved on. It took me more than seven hours to reach the 25.5-mile point.

But I determined to set a new record. So I strived to keep going downstream. That last voyage was the toughest: I was starting to be worn out and, to make it worse, it began to rain cats and dogs. But four hours later I saw a cheering crowd waiting to greet me. I made it! I set a new world record! I could hardly conceal my excitement in spite of the fact that my knees ached for days after the trip. My daughter Morgan wants me to grow a pumpkin big enough for the two of us to paddle down the river together next year, so that's what I'm working on now. That is life.

M: Hello. International Friends Club. Can I help you?

W: Oh, hello. I read about your club in the paper today and I thought I'd phone to find out a bit more.

M: Yes, certainly, well, we're a sort of social club for people from different countries. It's quite a new club — we have about 50 members at the moment, but we're growing all the time.

W: That sounds interesting.

(Text 2)

W: Where would you like to go?

M: How about Little Roma — you know, the Italian restaurant across from the movie theater? I heard it serves good food and the prices are low.

W: That's true. But the waiters are really slow, and they're not very friendly either.

(Text 3)

W: I've booked a seat on the ten-thirty train to Vancouver, and, look, it's ten fifteen now. I have to find the gate quickly.

W: Well, there are some strong singers this year, so I'm glad picking the winner's not my job.

M: Have you ever thought about entering a singing competition yourself?

W: I think it's more fun watching and making comments about everyone else! And anyway, being in charge of the whole thing, I've more than enough to do, I can tell you. I'm spending ages sorting things out, including most evenings. It's not a relaxing job but I love it.

M: I'm sure it'll be great.

W: Oh no! What happened?

M: The organizers had a look at the football field they were supposed to play on and said it was just too soft because of all the rain recently.

W: Oh dear. And I heard that some players had been sick too, which could affect how well they'll play. So what's going to happen now then?

M: The organizers are going to try and find another place for Friday, but it probably won't be anywhere around here.

W: I'm sure they'll find somewhere suitable. I hope it stays dry for it.

M: I think the forecast said storms for Friday. Too bad ... I hope we can still get to go though!

M: Am I what?

W: On e-friends. I mean, do you use the e-friends site?

M: Oh, the chat website? No, I can't stand that site.

W: What do you mean? I love it! I have a blog there. My friends can read what I write, I can read their blogs, and we can share pictures. What don't you like about it?

M: Well, I don't like the design. There are ads all over the site, on every page!

W: I guess the ads don't bother me. And the site is free. Anyone can join.

M: That's true, but I have no reason to join.

W: Well, if you join, you can make more friends. I've met so many new people on it.

M: I think I have enough friends already.

W: I'd like to look at some rental spaces that you have listed on your website. Is the one on 1200 Mason Boulevard still available?

M: Well, I'm afraid that one is taken this morning. But I could show you more properties near that building. They're not as cheap as the one you saw, but some of them are quite affordable and more spacious.

W: Well, I'm planning to open up my shop on May 1st and I need at least one month to prepare everything.

M: We should hurry then. Why don't you stop by my office tomorrow and I'll show you around the one you might be interested in?

W: OK. As long as it's close to the Mason Boulevard, I'm fine with it. My biggest concern is the rent. I don't want to pay any more than I really have to.

M: I'm going to send you a link to show available properties. I would recommend the one near the Longwood Station. It has the lowest rent for now.

M: Good morning everyone and welcome to your first day at Kingsville Electronics. My name is Eric and I am the sales manager of the South New York region. Let me start off by saying how happy I'm to have you as a part of the Kingsville Electronics sales team. I'm thrilled to have such a talented group of new employees in our sales force. Since you've already received your company handbooks, we will start up today by reviewing some of the most important department procedures and policies. We will have a short break at noon and then in the afternoon, you will meet some of the senior sales representatives and other colleagues you'll work with. Oh, there is an error in your printed schedule. There will be a change, a switch, in times for the last two sessions. Some of the senior sales agents won't be here until 3 so we'll postpone it a little bit.

Our team has continuously topped the sales record of the national average and we hope you could do the same excellent job in the future.
