M: Hello. International Friends Club. Can I help you?

W: Oh, hello. I read about your club in the paper today and I thought I'd phone to find out a bit more.

M: Yes, certainly. Well, we are a sort of social club for people from different countries. It's quite a new club—we have about 50 members at the moment, but we are growing all the time.

W: That sounds interesting. I'm British actually, and I came to Washington about three months ago. I'm looking for ways to meet people. Er, what kinds of events do you organize?

M: Well, we have social get-togethers, and sports events, and we also have language evenings.

W: Could you tell me something about the language evenings?

M: Yes. Every day except Thursday we have a language evening. People can come and practice their languages—you know, over a drink or something. We have different languages on different evenings. Monday—Spanish; Tuesday—Italian; Wednesday—German; and Friday—French. On Thursday we usually have a meal in a restaurant for anyone who wants to come.

W: Well, that sounds great. I really need to practice my French.

M: OK. Well, if you can just give me your name and address, I'll send you the form and some more information. If you join now, you can have the first month free.

M: Indeed. I've run out of steam. To be honest, I want to be in a different environment.

W: Have you decided?

M: Which model do you sell the most?

W: How about this? It is the bestseller.

M: I like the coat's style, but I don't like its color. Do you have this coat in yellow?

W: Oh, I love this music. I'll never get tired of listening to it. Anyway you can talk to people. There are so many people here.

M: That's true. But I've not met anyone here who I'm really interested in talking to.

W: Oh, I almost forgot. I've just begun to learn rock climbing. And you're good at it. I need your advice. Let's go over there where it's less crowded.

W: Last month, my father lost his balance and fell in the bathroom. Fortunately, he was OK.

M: That's good. Elderly people need to be careful.

W: Yes, so I was wondering whether I should put him into a nursing home. I'm always busy with my work. Therefore I'm afraid I can't take good care of him. Speaking of nursing homes, on the one hand, I'm worried that when my dad sees other old people get sick or die there, he may be in a bad mood. On the other hand, I heard the environment is pleasant and the services are professional in the nursing home. I'm puzzled.

M: Well, let me tell you something about my mother. Three years ago when she was 57, she offered to go to the nursing home, which astonished us. Very soon we supported her decision and I realized why she did so. Elderly people easily become lonely.

W: I know what you mean. I'll have to think about it.

听下面一段独白,回答第 17 至第 20 四个小题。现在,你有 20 秒钟的时间阅读这四个小题。

(Text 10)

W: Many rules govern drivers on American streets and highways. The most common ones are the speed limit. The speed limit regulates how fast a car may go. On streets in the city, the speed limit is usually 25 or 35 miles per hour. On the highways between cities, the speed limit is usually 55 miles per hour. When people drive faster than the speed limit, a policeman can stop them. The policeman gives them pieces of paper which people call traffic tickets. Traffic tickets tell the drivers how much money they must pay. When drivers receive too many tickets, they probably cannot drive for a while. The rush hour is when people are going to work or going home. At the rush hours, there are many cars in the streets and traffic moves very slowly. Nearly all American cities have rush hours. Drivers do not get tickets very often for speeding at the rush hours because they cannot drive fast.

An Amazing Performance of Chinese Classical Dance

I enjoyed an amazing performance of Chinese classical dance in the school hall yesterday, which was performed by the students in our school. It is absolutely amazing.

With diversified styles and colorful performances, the dancers presented a dance feast for the audience. There was no doubt that their performances were of high quality, making them impressive. I enjoyed every second of the dancing and was particularly attracted by the fan dance performed by students from Class 1, Grade 1, which moved my heart and offered me a great feeling of Chinese culture. I hope the school can continuously hold activities like this in future.

参考范文:

When Daniel was to pick up his bike, he heard a voice behind him, "Wait!" He turned around and saw McReynolds was running towards him. Daniel was thinking she had already expressed her appreciation to him for what he did. He thought he was doing the right thing. Therefore, he said, "That was no big deal, Miss McReynolds. I have to get my bike repaired now." McReynolds smiled, "Please wait right here, Daniel. I'll be back in a minute." Daniel wondered what else she wanted him to do.

Minutes later, McReynolds returned, with a beautiful blue bike. She said to Daniel, "I bought this bike but I have never used it. I have been considering giving it to someone who is in need. Now I want you to have it, please!" Daniel was shocked, in disbelief. Daniel appreciated her generosity and kindness with tears in his eyes. He touched the bike, admiring its beauty, and it was light, too. With the incredible bike, now the boy can deliver his packages more effectively and still have some time left for his studies.
