As for my unforgettable moments, they are mostly about school life, such as becoming a boarder for the first time, being distressed by failure in the exam or cultivating a priceless friendship.

Whatever the moments are, they are the inevitable growing pains and gains, reminding me of the meaningful school life. Therefore, I should cherish and embrace those moments actively. After all, each step I take is one more step forward to a stronger and better me.

One possible version:

Realizing I was not different, I walked out into the hall and caught up with Jeremy. "I'm sorry, Jeremy. Could I have a talk with you?" I said, trying to be calm and sincere. He turned around, looked at me for a moment and nodded, "OK". "Jeremy, could you tell me what have happened to you?" I asked. Hesitantly, Jeremy began to share with me about his story. From what he said, I knew his mother was killed in a car accident three months before. Worse still, his father, who was in deep sorrow, lost his job soon afterwards. After that, his father became bad-tempered and often shouted at him, ignoring all his requests. As he told me what was happening, he began to cry.

At that moment, my heart broke for this boy and his family life. I gently hugged him and patted him on the back. Then I walked him home and encouraged him to face life in a positive way. After that, I often chatted with Jeremy and helped him deal with his troubles. I even paid a visit to his father several times. As time went by, Jeremy behaved better and better and smiles often appeared on his face. At the end of the program, Jeremy hugged me tightly and thanked me again and again. At that moment, I suddenly realized what it meant to serve — Get to know a person from the bottom of your heart and give what he needs.

W: Fine, you are learning fast. Well, to your health and success in business. Cheers.

M: Cheers.

Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to the City Zoo. Now I'd like to explain the program we've arranged for you here this afternoon. There'll be three animal shows. The first show will begin at three o'clock in the aquarium. You'll certainly be fascinated by the dolphins' and the whales' funny actions. After that comes the second show. This is feeding the monkeys at four o'clock in the primate centre. Please don't feed the animals with any sweets, or biscuits or fruits, because these can upset the animals' normal diet. You can assist the staff in feeding the monkeys with specially prepared food, and in playing with the monkeys, too. The last show will begin at 4:30 in the bird cage. Dr Taylor will be with you as your guide. He'll point out to you more than 300 species of birds from South America. If you have any questions about these shows or other events at the zoo, please ask the people at the information desk at the main entrance.
