Text 1

W: I think I can get an A in this exam. It's not so difficult as far as I'm concerned.

M: Really? This exam is a real killer for me. I'll be satisfied if I can get a pass mark.

Text 2

M: Linda, you only have half an hour. Hurry up, or you'll be late for the interview.

W: Don't worry, dear. It's only 9:00 now. The interview has been delayed by 20 minutes.

Text 3

M: I'd like to renew this book, please. Here is my library card.

W: Let me check. Sorry, but you have another book that is overdue. You need to return it first.

Text 4

M: Mum, I didn't have breakfast. I feel I can eat a horse now.

W: Dear, this bakery has introduced some new types of cakes recently. You can choose what you like. Then we'll have lunch with your dad in a new restaurant.

M: Great!

Text 5

W: Good morning, sir. What can I do for you?

M: Well, I'd like to ask something about the package tour you advertised in the local newspaper.

W: OK. What exactly do you want to know?

M: Hmm... will the guide take us to some shopping malls, for example?

Text 6

M: Hi, Tina. Haven't seen you for ages since we graduated from college.

W: Hi, Jack. How's everything?

M: Not bad.

W: Where are you working?

M: A local press.

W: Sounds cool! By the way, will you go to the class reunion next Saturday?

M: That's for sure. Well, would you like to go to the Xinhua Bookstore with me now? It's a good place to read.

W: I'd love to, but I have a job interview in two hours.

M: Oh, good luck! See you next Saturday.

W: See you then.

Text 7

M: I hurt my ankle while running seven weeks ago. The doctor told me to stay at home and rest until I recovered.

W: It must be boring to stay at home.

M: That's what I thought at first, too. Instead of watching TV and playing computer games, I found myself a hobby — reading novels.

W: Well, it sounds like you had a pretty good time. When will you be able to go running again?

M: Actually I recovered a week ago, but I want to finish the novel I'm reading before I start running again.

Text 8

W: Sorry to bother you, but does this bus go to the business district?

M: It does. Why? Do you work down there?

W: Yes. I'm supposed to be at the ACME Building by 9:00, but I don't think I'm going to make it on time.

M: Well, I work in the building just across the street from you.

W: Really? Actually, it's my first day on the job. Do you think it would be faster if we shared a taxi?

M: In this traffic, it won't make a difference. If you run to the subway station, you might catch the next train. That will take you straight there.

W: I'm not from around here. I'd probably get lost.

M: No problem. Hey, do you have WeChat on your phone?

W: Yes, I do. I'm CareBear99.

M: OK, I'll send you a friend request now. If you get lost or need someone to show you around, I'd be happy to help. Maybe we can even have lunch together sometime next week.

W: Sure, why not?

Text 9

W: Did you get your new schedule? Let me see, I want to know if we are in some of the same classes.

M: Sure. Hey, look! We're both in CAPP! I'm not sure what it is.

W: It is called Career and Personal Planning. Every Grade 12 student has to take it.

M: Do you know what it's all about?

W: It teaches us about the business world. Actually, it's about how to find a job. It also helps us discover our strengths, weaknesses, and interests.

M: Oh, I see. So since I am curious and like adventure, I might be a good reporter. What do you think is your best quality?

W: I always do what I say I'm going to do. I mean, you can always count on me if you need something.

M: Great!

W: We also have to volunteer at a job for one weekend. If you want, I can get you a job at my dad's athletic store.

M: I'd rather work with someone I know. My brother is building his house right now, and he needs some help.

Text 10

This weekend, there will be a special three-hour lecture called "The Perfect Cup of Tea." Ms Wei, an International tea expert, will teach you the proper way to prepare some different kinds of tea. In her lecture, she will talk about Indian black tea, North African mint tea, Chinese jasmine tea and English milk tea. During the first part of the lecture, Ms Wei will describe the history of tea and how it spread to different areas. In the second part, the audience will have a chance to make the four different kinds of tea. You will discover the perfect water temperature and cooking time for each one. In the third part, you will learn how to recognize good tea leaves by how they look and smell. The last half-hour of the lecture will be reserved for questions. This is the first lecture in a series. Next month, the head of a two-star restaurant in New York City will talk about his amazing journey from a dishwasher to a famous chef. The following month, in June, you will learn in four hours how to make one of the hardest dishes: Shanghai dumplings.
