Dear Thomas,

I am writing to tell you that the "Traditional Chinese Painting Week" of our school will be staged next week.

As you may know, traditional Chinese painting has developed continuously over a period of more than 6,000 years. Organized by Arts Club, an exhibition, which focuses on our campus life, will be displayed at the Art Center. During the week, a 2-hour lecture, starting at 16:30, will be given by an expert on a daily basis. Also, experienced painters will guide arts-lovers to practice painting with brush and ink on the spot too.

Since you are fond of Chinese paintings, I sincerely invite you to have a go there.

Yours,
Li Hua

【听力录音原文】

Text 1

W: How much is it for a double room per night?

M: It is 90 dollars. And it would be 80 dollars if you book more than 5 rooms at a time.

W: Good. I'd like to make a reservation for 8 rooms on July 21.

Text 2

W: Honey, a shopping mall will be opened in our neighborhood. It'll be within walking distance from our flat.

M: Sounds great! We can go shopping without driving or taking a bus.

Text 3

W: Bruce, could you give me a ride to the airport? I'm in a hurry.

M: Sorry, I took my car to the local garage for a check-up last night. Why not ask Caroline? She can stop by the airport on her way to work.

Text 4

M: What are you doing this summer, Maria?

W: I'm working at a lemonade bar near the city park. How about you? Helping out in your uncle's cafe as usual?

M: Not really. I'm working as a volunteer in the nursing home.

Text 5

W: Tom, the final exam is approaching, but you have been playing games all day.

M: Don't worry, Mom. I will study hard tomorrow.

W: You are skating on thin ice.

Text 6

W: Sam, how about if we all go to the new Chinese restaurant on your birthday or would you like me to cook your favorite meal here?

M: I don't know, Mom. Anyway, Sally promised to cook a meal at her house for me and a few classmates.

W: Oh, I didn't realize you'd already got something arranged. How about baking a cake for you to take to Sally's house for dessert?

M: That would be great, Mom. Maybe we can go to the Chinese restaurant some other time.

Text 7

W: Did you have a nice weekend, Charlie?

M: Not really. I went camping with my family.

W: That sounds fun!

M: It wasn't. Camping is so boring. I didn't have any service on my phone, so I couldn't check Facebook or Twitter the whole weekend!

W: That doesn't sound like a big deal. Didn't you enjoy hiking or swimming with your family?

M: Not really. I enjoyed taking pictures of us fishing, but I couldn't even post them until we got back on Monday.

W: Hmm, it sounds to me like you need to learn how to enjoy life without sharing every moment on social media.

Text 8

M: OK, that's all for this topic. Thank you for answering my questions about that. Now I'd like to move on to talk about fashions. So Kate Winslet, would you please tell us about the popular clothes and fashions in your country?

W: Well, that's quite difficult because people have different tastes, but younger people, like me, a 25-year-old, tend to wear a lot of jeans, which you wouldn't see on somebody who, say, is 60 or 70 years old. Some of them do not like fashions any more.

M: What sort of fashion shops do you have in your country?

W: Quite a lot. Some big chain stores. There is a big one near my house, but I never visit it. And there're also smaller and more independent shops, where I go quite often.

M: Have fashions changed very much since you were younger?

W: I think they have changed quite a lot, but it is interesting to see that some fashions reappear maybe 20 years later.

M: Is it important for you to be in fashion?

W: Yes, not desperately so, but I do like to be quite fashionable.

Text 9

W: George, what's with all the different colored containers outside?

M: They're all for different things. The gray one is for regular garbage, and the blue one is for bottles, cans and paper.

W: I think I've seen similar ones before at my grandmother's house. She has a white one for the bottles and cans, though. But what about this green one?

M: That's the most important one! It's for "green waste", like food that's gone bad or banana peels. My wife makes her own soil for our garden using the everyday waste from our kitchen.

W: Wow, I guess this is what you'd call "having a zero-waste lifestyle".

M: Exactly! We also put buckets in the shower to catch the extra water, and that's the water we use to clean the toilet.

W: Wow, you're serious about this zero-waste lifestyle, aren't you? Does it take a lot of time to plan everything out every day?

M: Not any more. I suppose in the beginning it did take some time to get used to it. But I have everything in place now, and living a green life comes naturally to me.

W: Why go to all this trouble?

M: It feels good to know that you're helping to save the environment.

Text 10

Good morning, everyone. Here is the Entertainment Guide for this week.

There is another exhibition of posters in Town Hall. Last year it was holiday posters, but this time the exhibition will be of railway posters. The exhibition opens on Monday. Admission is free, and the exhibition is open from ten until five every day. If you can spend some time there, I'm sure you will enjoy yourself.

There's a special feature at the Arts Center this week. It's the very first performance of a new play, The Rose Garden, by a local writer, Alan Brown. This is Alan's first stage play, but many of you have enjoyed his films on television. The play will be on Saturday. Be sure to book your seats as soon as possible, if you have not done so yet. If you like his films very much, I believe this play won't let you down.

There is also a film, Detective in the Shadows, being shown this Sunday at the Arts Center Cinema. Book the tickets in advance just in case that you can't get a ticket the very day you come to see the film. The place to go to make reservations is the Tourist Center. It is open from 9:30 until 4:30 every day except Sunday and Monday. Also, you can book tickets on the Internet. Just go to www.Artscentercinema.com.
