书面表达:

Good afternoon, everyone!
I feel very honored to stand here and deliver a speech entitled "My Ideal Career".
Every student faces the problem of choosing an occupation when graduating from university. To make a sensible choice, a graduate is strongly advised to take two aspects into consideration, namely personal interest and the demand of our society. Only when the two aspects are connected, can a man show his ability and talent to great advantage.
As to my choice for the future, I want to work as an interpreter. I am keen on learning foreign languages, English in particular. Moreover, in the contemporary society, international communication has been growing significantly. Therefore, I am determined to be a qualified interpreter.
Thank you for listening.
