第一节

Dear Frank,

I'm writing to inform you that I am not able to go hiking with you in Xishan Park due to my illness, for which I really feel pitiful.

Honestly speaking, I have been looking forward to going hiking with you for a long time. Unfortunately, yesterday I was unexpectedly infected with flu, which caused me to have a high fever and suffer a lot. Thus, I am afraid I can't keep the appointment as scheduled with you. I deeply apologize for any inconvenience I may have caused.

Please accept my heartfelt apology again. Hopefully we can make another appointment after I have fully recovered. Please let me know what time suits you best. I am looking forward to your prompt reply.

Yours sincerely,

Li Hua

第二节

Max and Charley were disappointed when they didn't catch the ice-cream man in time. A wonderful idea flashed through Mimi's mind. Her eyes sparkled and said, "Never give up! We can hustle off to find it at its next stop." Hearing this, Max and Charley widened their eyes and jumped up cheerfully. Without a second thought, they started their adventure. They walked block after block. My kids' tiny legs were tired and aching, but they were still in cheerful spirits. Following Mimi and continuing to chant their "Never give up!", they moved forward steadily. (80)

After about twenty minutes of walking, my kids' faith in catching him began to weaken. Mimi patted them on the shoulder gently and clenched her fist firmly, "Never give up!" Max and Charley cracked a smile and followed her. Another block covered, they finally found it, the green shirt and the waving bell. Overwhelmed with excitement, they jumped and screamed, "Hooray!"

We made it!” Eventually they tasted the delicious ice-cream to their hearts’ content. So when you want to pursue something, please bear in mind “Never give up!”—the next ice-scream truck is just around the corner. (82)

Test 1

M: Look how foggy it is outside! We can’t go out in this weather.

W: Oh dear. Well, if there’s a bit of wind, maybe the fog will clear soon.

Test 2

W: Ted is fluent in German, and now he’s going to learn French.

M: I’ve heard he also knows a little Japanese.

W: Yes, he just started learning Japanese when he became a freshman at university this summer.

Test 3

M: Oh, my gosh! What happened to your kitchen? There is water all over the floor.

W: Oh, there is something wrong with the pipe.

M: Why don’t you call Mr. Wilson?

Test 4

M: My wife and I want to go abroad and travel. Can you give us some advice?

W: There is a three-day package tour in London. It is a general tour of the city.

Test 5

W: John, I hear that you’ve won an award in an All India competition.

M: I participated in the All India Essay Writing Competition sponsored by the Tata Group of industries. I got the second prize.

W: That’s really great. Congratulations!

Test 6

W: I have a very angry customer on the phone.

M: What is the problem?

W: The customer says he wants to exchange his refrigerator.

M: Why? What is wrong with it?

W: He says it doesn’t work anymore.

M: Did you tell him we would try to fix it for free?

W: Yes. He won’t listen to me.

M: What is he demanding?

W: He wants a free replacement right now.

M: That is not how our policy works.

W: Can you please talk to him?

Test 7

M: All right, Miss Jones. The details are all in our conference pack, which I’ll send you.

W: Great, thanks. That’ll be very useful. Oh, and can you also send me an application form?

M: Of course. I'll get that in the post to you straight away. Is there anything else?

W: Yes, actually. Can you tell me where exactly the conference centre is?

M: Well, it's on South Park Road and it's right at the end of the road next to the library. It's a ten-minute taxi ride from the station and will cost you £5. Otherwise, you can take the bus which runs every half an hour from the station — that's the 21A — and it brings you straight to the conference centre.

W: Right, got that.

Test 8

W: Good morning, Doctor Mill's clinic. This is Jenna. How may I help you?

M: Yes, good morning, Jenna. This is Alfred James, and I need to see Dr. Mill. Is he available today?

W: I'm sorry, but he is on a home visit this morning, but he will be back around one o'clock. Is that OK with you?

M: Oh, well, I don't know if I can wait that long. I woke up this morning with aching eyes. I can't open them in bright light. I am also getting a terrible headache.

W: Were you on the computer or watching TV for a long time yesterday? Well, try putting a warm towel over your eyes for a while.

M: Thanks for the advice. I pulled an all-nighter to get the project done. I guess I will just try to rest until I can see Dr. Mill.

W: OK, Mr. James. I will schedule your appointment with Dr. Mill at one o'clock this afternoon. Thank you for calling!

M: See you at one o'clock.

Test 9

M: Jane, where do you want to sit? In the shade or in the sun?

W: In the shade, please. I have been in the sun too much lately.

M: There is a food stand over there. Do you want anything?

W: Nothing for me, thanks. I already have my bottle of water.

M: I want a bag of chips and a soda. Are you sure you do not want any chips, Jane?

W: I am quite sure. Besides, my mother is cooking a good steak dinner, and I want to save my appetite.

M: Jane, you are so lucky to have such a good cook for a mother.

W: I know we will have cream cake for dessert this evening. I will save you a piece if you want, John.

M: I always love cakes. You know I will say yes to a piece of your mother's cream cake any day.

W: OK, I will save a piece of cream cake for you tonight. We can meet at the cafeteria at lunch time tomorrow and I will give it to you.

M: Thanks, Jane. I'd better get my chips and soda now. It is almost 3 pm, and the concert is about to start.

Test 10

W: Good morning, everyone. I have a piece of news from Mooringtown Library here today. Mooringtown Library is pleased to invite local people and companies to use the free advertising space on its new noticeboard. Space on the board is available for up to a maximum of four weeks at a time.

Notices must be shown in advance to the library's front desk and accepted. And they must meet the following requirements. All content must be suitable to be shown to the public. The notice must be written or printed on standard-quality paper, either 8.5in.x11in. or 5.5in.x8.5in. You shouldn't write the desired start and end dates in the middle or in the left up corners. They should be written in the bottom right corner. Any notices that do not meet these requirements will not be considered.

If you want to use the board, you can come to the Mooringtown Library front desk with the finished notice. Within one business day, you will receive a call confirming that your notice has been added to the board. OK, that's all for the news. Thanks for listening.
