Last Sunday my brother and I decided to paint our bedrooms while our parents were out for a party. Our parents usually have the painting do by a local firm, but we thought we could save some money if we did it ourselves. We watched the painters the last time the house A painted, but we thought we would be able to do the job. "First all the surface have to be washed," my brother said "That can't be very difficulty." I replied. "We'd better to put some newspapers on the carpet. If we make the mess, we'll get into trouble." After that had been done, we looked in some paint in the garden shed "We could use this red paint," I suggested. My brother said that we preferred green paint. Just as we were going to start, our parents arrived home "You must have asked us first," my mother said to us. "You can paint the rest of the house, too."

VII. Writing(写作)(共 2 题:A 题满分 10 分,B 题满分 20 分,计 30 分)

(A) One possible version

In 2005 the car was the most popular means of transport in Europe. Similarly, the car remained the most popular means of transport in 2010 and 2015. However, between 2010 and 2015 the number of people preferring the car decreased. In 2005 the second most preferred means of transport was by air, whereas by 2015 it had been replaced by traveling on foot. One might have expected traveling on foot would decrease over the ten years but it actually increased. The preference for public transport decreased between 2005 and 2010. On the other hand, between 2010 and 2015 the preference for public transport actually increased, while the preference for air travel stayed the same.

(B) One possible version

Every country has its own traditional festivals, some of which have existed for centuries. In my opinion, we should do everything possible to preserve them.

Some people think that in today's high-tech world celebrations of traditional festivals are old-fashioned and irrelevant to our lives. However, events such as the Spring Festival are important, as they bring communities together and make us think about other people.

Another argument against celebrations of traditional festivals is that they're expensive to organize. To some extent, this is true, particularly when there are firework displays. But it's a small price to pay for brightening up our lives with entertainment and color. Moreover, celebrations of the Dragon Boat Festival in our country attract many tourists from abroad.

To conclude, traditional festival celebrations are a source of great pleasure and interest, and they're certainly worth keeping.

II. Dialogues

(A) Please listen to the following five mini-dialogues. Each dialogue is followed by a question. Choose the best answer to each question according to the dialogue you hear. Each dialogue and question will be read twice.

6. M: Is that your new teacher over there, Nena? The one with glasses and long, dark hair.
W: No. She doesn't wear glasses and she's short with long, fair hair.
M: Is she standing next to the tall woman with short, fair hair?
W: Yes, that's her.
Q: Who's the woman's new teacher?
7. M: How was your holiday, Emma?
W: We had a nice time, thanks. The weather was good and we spent a lot of time on the beach.
M: Did you do any sightseeing?
W: Some. We visited the historical center and a few museums. But my favorite trip was the water park. It was great fun.
Q: What did the woman like best about her holiday?
8. M: Have you seen my gloves anywhere? Can you help me find them? I've checked the car but they're not there. Did I leave them on the kitchen table?
W: Oh yes, I remember. I moved them from there and put them on the shelf by the window. I needed to do some work on the table.
M: OK. I can see them. Thanks.
Q: Where are the man's gloves now?
9. W: Hi, Dad, I'm at the airport.
M: Oh, I didn't know you were arriving so early. Do you want me to come and pick you up? Or can you get the bus?
W: There's no need for you to drive here because there's a train leaving in ten minutes, so I'll get that. It's quicker than the bus.
Q: How will the woman go home from the airport?
10. M: Hello. I have an appointment to see Doctor Partha next Tuesday at 5:00 pm but I'm afraid I have to cancel that. Do you have anything else that week about the same time?
W: There's 4:30 on Wednesday or there's one a bit later on Friday at 5:30.
M: I can't do the earlier one. I'm still at work then.
W: OK. I'll book you for the Friday one.
Q: What time is the man's new appointment?

(B) Please listen to the following dialogue. The dialogue is followed by five questions. Choose the best answer to each question according to the dialogue you hear. The dialogue and questions will be read twice.

- W: What do you think of this computer, Chris?
M: I like it but I don't think I have enough money. It's too expensive.
W: Your parents have said they'll pay for it, haven't they?
M: They've given me some money but it's not enough. I'll still have to pay some of it myself. I can't afford this one.

W: So let's look at some others then. What about a laptop? Have you thought about getting one of those instead?

M: I'm not sure.

W: Well ... you'll be able to carry it around and you can take it into the college with you so it would be really useful. You needn't use the computers at college then.

M: Maybe. But I'll probably need to buy a printer as well.

W: There are lots of printers to choose from. This one here is on sale. It's not very much at all.

M: I suppose not. But I don't really think I need a laptop. I work in my room most of the time and I don't want to take it into the college.

W: Well, what about the computer we saw in the window in the last shop? Shall we go back there? It's OK and it isn't too expensive.

M: That's a good idea. Let's go there now. It's only across the road.

Questions:

11. What does the man want to buy?
12. Who gave the man some money to pay for it?
13. Why doesn't the man want to buy a laptop?
14. Where are probably the two speakers?
15. What's the man speaker?

III. Passages

(A) Please listen to the following passage. The passage is followed by five questions. Choose the best answer to each question according to the passage you hear. The passage and questions will be read twice.

M: A taxi driver, John Manley, has saved the lives of a husband and wife whose car crashed into a tree on Friday night. Manley pulled the couple out from the car and drove them immediately to a London hospital in his taxi. They're now in a stable condition.

Dr. Niall Smith, from the Cambridge Think Tank on Diet and Health, says that our children eat too much fatty food. In a two-year study of 900 school children aged eleven to fifteen, Niall and his team found that children ate double the amount of fat recommended by doctors. Hamburgers, chips, chocolate and soft drinks were the biggest problems.

Painter Angela Witco has found a famous buyer for her work. Rock star and art lover Lee Santana bought Angela's painting Trees in Winter for an unknown sum. He saw the painting in a small art gallery in Manchester and fell in love with it immediately. Angela says she's extremely happy that her painting has found a good home.

In the town of Fincher, one thousand homes will be knocked down to build a shopping area with a car park. Local authorities say that the shopping area will revitalize the Fincher town center. They say new housing will be built next year.

Questions:

16. Who did John Manley save?
17. Where did John take the injured?
18. What should children eat less according to the study?
19. How does Angela feel about selling her painting?
20. When will the new houses be built?

(B) Please listen to the following passage and fill in the blanks according to the passage you hear with one word for each blank. The passage will be read twice.

W: Good afternoon. I'm going to show you around our new central library which only opened last week. The first bit of good news is that we have longer opening hours than the old library. From Tuesday to Saturday we open at 9:30 am and close at 6:00 pm. We're closed on Sunday, of course.

We've moved some things around as we've got more space here. Fiction and reference books are where they always were on the second floor and on the first floor you'll find children's books. Every Saturday morning one of the librarians will read stories there. There's a new section with games and puzzles which can be borrowed.

Music has moved from the first floor to the third floor where it has much more space. You'll also find DVDs there as well as all our computers. They're very popular, of course, so it's a good idea to book in advance if you need to use a computer. Although we've increased the number, there always seems to be a queue.

Borrowing times. We've extended the length of time you can keep books to three weeks and there's no charge, of course. But if you keep them longer than that, there's a charge of £1.75 a week. DVDs and videos can be borrowed for £3 a week as before.

So, let's go upstairs and I'll answer questions as we go.
