书面表达

One possible version:

Dear Tony,

Our school has recently set up some Reading Corners on campus. I'm writing to invite you to make full use of these reading materials.

In order to arouse students' interest in reading and create a rich cultural environment, our school opened six Reading Corners in different parts of our school last week. A variety of books and magazines are on the bookshelves, including science fiction, novels, popular magazines and newspapers. We can search the newspapers for the latest news and read the magazines to broaden our horizons. You can read them when it is convenient for you. I am sure you will find them interesting.

Yours,
Li Hua
