Dear Sir or Madam,

Knowing that the school English newspaper is looking for an editor responsible for the column "Traditional Chinese Culture", I'm writing to apply for the position.

I think I'm qualified for it. To begin with, I have a good command of English, especially written English. Besides, I have taken the part-time job as an English editor, from which I have gained relevant experience. More importantly, I have a rich knowledge of traditional Chinese culture.

I would really appreciate it if I could be given the precious chance. I'm looking forward to your reply.

Yours sincerely,
Li Hui

The boy happily ran to us and asked, "Can I make a donation?" Lisa and I looked at each other, excited and surprised. Words failed both of us the moment we saw such a little boy would care. Though we didn't believe it, we said "yes". The boy put his hand in his pocket and took out some five dollar bills. He said, "I just asked for them from my mother. I really want to help the children suffering from cancer."

Both Lisa and I were deeply touched. The boy had left without any words before we expressed our sincere gratitude to him. Looking at the sight of the boy's back, both Lisa and I were greatly encouraged. It was at that very moment that we were determined to spare no effort to raise money. So instead of just standing there, we went to people and told them about our programme. As the day came to a close, we raised over three thousand dollars, a lot more than Lisa and I had expected in the beginning.
