第四部分 写作

第一节

Form a Good Class Habit

The activity “Form a Good Class Habit” launched three months ago has brought me a lot of benefits.

The activity aimed to improve our personal well-being and meanwhile benefit our community and society as a whole. During this activity, I decided to focus on cultivating the habit of reading for 30 minutes every day. At first, it was challenging to do so, but I started by setting small goals and gradually increased my reading time.

By setting a clear goal and committing to it, I have learned the value of perseverance and consistency. I hope more people will join in and embrace the activity.

第二节

Every afternoon for the next month, Sandro trained really hard. Starting position, starting dive, turning, pushing off, touching the timing pad, all details, he practiced them over and over. Whenever he was exhausted, Eddie's words echoed in his mind and supplied extra energy to him. “Maybe I can't be the champion of the game, but I can be the champion for myself.” He spoke in a low mumble to himself after he finished the last training. Finally, the day of competition arrived. With the sound of the starting gun piercing through the air, the race began as expected.

Sandro dived into the pool confidently like other competitors. He swam as freely as a fish. 150 meters covered, he was left behind by 2 competitors. In the last 50 meters, Sandro swam with all his strength, his arms pushing forward fast and his legs hitting the water hard. Finally, the championship was still out of his reach. When the result was announced that Sandro won third place, however, other players congratulated him, the audience in the stadium bursting into thunderous applause. As teacher Eddie said, he won the recognition and respect from others, with his effort.

W: Hello. This is the front desk. What can I do for you?
M: Hi. I'm calling from Room 209. I couldn't find the TV Guide. Can you send me one, please?

Text 2

M: You look like a million dollars (看上去十分漂亮) in your new dress.
W: It's very nice of you to say so. It is my birthday present from my mother. Your tie is also very handsome.

Text 3

W: Hi, Tom, how about your final exam?
M: Oh, to my delight, I got a full mark in math. My hard work in it paid off finally. But I failed in English. What about you?
W: I did the best in Chinese, but failed in math. I should have worked harder at this subject.

Text 4

M: I am reading an article in the school magazine and learn that our school band needs another singer. You are such a good singer. Why not have a try?
W: Really? Thank you for telling me about it. I will sign up for it.

Text 5

M: Hi, Lily, weekend is coming. What do you usually do on weekends?
W: On Saturday mornings, I usually do the cleaning at home, and in the evenings, I often go out for dinner with my friends. And I make it a rule to visit my parents on Sundays.

Text 6

W: Excuse me, my flight has been delayed and there are a few questions. Can you help me?
M: Yes, madam. What can I do for you?
W: First of all, where can I exchange some currency?
M: You just go upstairs on the right, and you will see the currency exchange office.
W: Thank you. And can you tell me where the nearest restaurant is?
M: This airport has many. Just walk down that corridor and you can take your pick.
W: Great. One more thing, do you know when the duty-free shop opens?
M: I believe it opens at 10:00, madam.
W: Thank you.
M: You are welcome.

Text 7

M: Wow, the commercials on the radio station are really long.
W: You're funny, Henry. These aren't commercials. This is talk radio.
M: What does that mean? This station doesn't play music?
W: Nope. It has talk programs all day.
M: What could they possibly talk about for so long?

W: They mostly discuss current events. I appreciate their detailed news stories.

M: That's interesting—I'm exactly the opposite. I get all of my news from Twitter because I don't have the time to read long articles or listen to news broadcasts.

Text 8

M: So, how are your children doing?

W: Good, but they're pretty busy.

M: Oh, I know.

W: I don't think families spend enough time together—not like we used to.

M: That's for sure. We used to do everything with our parents when we were children. We'd go to the park, things like that.

W: Yeah, my dad used to play basketball with us. Now it seems that my children want to do everything with their friends.

M: Oh, I know. Mine too. I can't even get them to go to the movies with us.

W: Exactly. Well, maybe you can get them to come over to my house next weekend. We could all have a barbecue. Children are usually interested if there's food and a pool!

M: OK, I'll ask. Thanks, Mary.

Text 9

W: Let me tell you some of our policies and practices here at Globe Insurance.

M: All right.

W: We require all our employees to arrive on time for work. Employee character is very important to us. We expect everyone here at Globe Insurance to be hard-working, easy-going, and honest.

M: I'm glad to hear that.

W: We also try to do the best we can for our employees. We make every effort to listen to our employees' concerns. Is there any additional information I can provide?

M: Yes, as a matter of fact, I have two questions. First, could you tell me whether I would be required to have a medical examination before I start work?

W: Yes, of course.

M: And would it be necessary for me to work on weekends?

W: No, that wouldn't be necessary.

M: I see. Well, I've probably taken up enough of your time. I'm looking forward to hearing from you.

W: We'll be in touch with you shortly.

M: OK, thank you. I'll be waiting for the good news.

Text 10

W: We have a little time before our next program, so let me tell you about some of the programs for the rest of the evening.

Here on Radio 4, at 8:30, we go over to Helston, in Cornwall for this week's edition of our regular discussion program, It's My Opinion. Over on Radio 3, also at 8:30, we have a concert of the 18th century Italian songs given by Gwen Harding with the Helston Festival Orchestra conducted by Frederick Davis.

If you're a sports enthusiast, there's a football commentary on Radio 2 at 9 o'clock. There's commentary on the whole of the second half of the Scotland against Brazil match from Rio de Janeiro.

Moving on to later in the evening, the 10 o'clock news. Just a word about Radio 1, where this year's London Pop Spectacular (精彩的表演) is being broadcast all evening until 11:30, live from Royal Victoria Hall in London. Now it's 8:30, and we go over to Helston for this week's edition of It's My Opinion.
