第二节 One possible version:

Dear teachers and my fellow students,

I'm honored to be chosen as the speaker of the coming-of-age ceremony on behalf of our classmates. The ceremony is a grand occasion when we are announced to be grown-up, who must take on the responsibility of our home and country as an adult.

How time flies! My dear teachers, it seems like yesterday when I first stepped into the classroom, greeted by your caring eyes and encouraging smiles. Upon our graduation, what pops up from my deepest heart is the endless gratitude for your company during my facing different challenges in the past three years.

I'm convinced that each of us has some bittersweet memories with our deskmates, roommates and classmates. Now as we set sail ahead, I wish you to be admitted into your ideal university. And in your long life journey, I also wish you to be embraced warmly in the world.

That's all. Thanks.
