三、参考范文

Mama waited for me to tell Angie that getting the shot wouldn't hurt. I wanted to do what she told me. But if I told Angie it wouldn't hurt, I thought, she wouldn't ever believe me again. So, I cupped my hands around my mouth and yelled, "DON'T LET THEM DO IT TO YOU, ANGIE!". Hearing this, my sister screamed, jumped off the table, and took off down a long hall. Surprised, then angry, my mum hurriedly ran after her. Eventually, Leonard, Mama, and two nurses all got involved and worn out when a doctor gave her the shot.

On the way home, Angie buried her face in Mama's chest, crying. I tried to hold my tears back. I didn't want to cry because of my hurting arm or my hurting foot. I wanted to cry because

I'd made things harder on Mama. Suddenly, a tiny finger gently touched my shoulder. I looked up and saw Angie's sweet face. A tear slid down her cheek as she reached out her hand. I took it in mine, holding like this all the way. Seeing this, my mama and Leonard both smiled.

附录 1：录音原文

Text 1

W: When will the rain stop?

M: The rain stopped about half an hour ago. Don't you see it is cloudy?

W: Oh, I guess the sun will come out soon.

Text 2

M: Charles enjoyed his two-week drive through South China.

W: Yes, he said he saw much more by car than by bus or by train.

Text 3

W: Don't you know that you are an hour late?

M: I'm terribly sorry, Joan. My car broke down on the way.

Text 4

M: Mario used to play the piano, didn't he?

W: No, he didn't. He used to play the drums.

Text 5

M: What are you working on so hard?

W: An article for the newspaper. If I am late, it won't get printed until next week.

Text 6

M: It's a bit crowded here, isn't it?

W: Yes. It's always like this on the first night of such a big meeting. Is it your first time attending?

M: Yes, it is. By the way, I'm Dan Morimoto.

W: I'm Linda Green. Did you attend the opening ceremony this morning? I think the speaker is excellent.

M: No, unfortunately, I was late this morning.

W: What a pity! Do you plan to stay for the whole arrangement?

M: No. I'm afraid I have to leave early tomorrow. Excuse me, I see a workmate of mine over there and I'd like to say hello to him.

W: Sure.

Text 7

W: Hey, John. How's it going?

M: Good, thanks. How was your weekend?

W: Ah, you know. Nothing special. You?

M: Uhh, pretty quiet. I spent most of the time getting ready for this class. There's so much reading to do.

W: Know what you mean. I was up till 4 am finishing off that essay. I only got about four hours' sleep last night.

M: Well, we've got about ten minutes before Professor Berry gets here. You want to get a coffee or something?

W: Yeah, coffee sounds good.

Text 8

W: Hello, George! I wanted to speak to you yesterday, but you weren't at your usual place for lunch.

M: No. I had a free day from the newspaper office because I worked so much overtime last week.

W: Oh, I see. You had a holiday.

M: Well! I stayed at home and looked after the baby.

W: What? You took care of the baby? Whose baby?

M: Oh, it was my sister's baby. She wanted to go shopping in the morning, so she sent the baby to my house. And I did a lot of other things, too.

W: Oh?

M: Yes. I mended my radio, washed a shirt and some socks, and cleaned out the drawers of my desk.

W: I don't call that a holiday. I wanted to ask you to a concert last night. The one at the Town Hall near where we live.

M: That's funny! My office called me in the afternoon and asked me to write an article about the concert.

Text 9

W: Hello!

M: Hi, we would like to hold a party at the restaurant.

W: Oh, certainly. I'm Linda, the manager here. I can help you with that. How many people will there be in your party?

M: There will be about 18 people.

W: OK. For a party that size, we have a separate room in the back.

M: Is there an extra charge to reserve the room?

W: No, as long as you can guarantee at least 15 guests, there is no extra charge.

M: That's great. I'd like to reserve the room for Friday, on December 2, at about 12:00 noon. This is a family party and we'd like to bring a cake and three bottles of champagne. Will that be acceptable?

W: The cake is no problem, but we do charge $10 a bottle for any alcohol that isn't bought from the restaurant.

M: That will be fine.

W: Great. We have a separate room reserved on December 2. May I have your name and contact information?

M: Sure. I'm Jeff Green and my number is 323-555-6840.

W: Thanks, Mr Green. I'll give you a call a week in advance to confirm the arrangement.

M: Good. Thanks for your help.

W: Thank you for choosing Bruno's.

Text 10

Today, I would like to draw your attention to a few of the laws of the country. The first one is about drinking. Now, you may not buy alcohol in this country if you are under 18 years of age, nor may your friends buy it for you. Secondly, noise. Enjoy yourselves by all means, but please don't make unnecessary noise, especially at night. Thirdly, about crossing the road. Be careful. The traffic moves on the left side of the road in this country. My next point is about litter. It's against the law to throw away rubbish in a public place. Finally, about smoking. It is against the law to buy cigarettes or tobacco if you are under 16 years of age. I'd like to finish by saying that if you require any sort of help, you should get in touch with the local police, who will be pleased to help you.
