M: Hello. International Friends Club. Can I help you?

W: Oh, hello. I read about your club in the paper today and I thought I'd phone to find out a bit more.

M: Yes, certainly. Well, we are a sort of social club for people from different countries. It's quite a new club—we have about 50 members at the moment, but we are growing all the time.

W: That sounds interesting. I'm British actually, and I came to Washington about three months ago. I'm looking for ways to meet people. Er, what kinds of events do you organize?

M: Well, we have social get-togethers, and sports events, and we also have language evenings.

W: Could you tell me something about the language evenings?

M: Yes. Every day except Thursday we have a language evening. People can come and practice their languages—you know, over a drink or something. We have different languages on different evenings. Monday—Spanish; Tuesday—Italian; Wednesday—German; and Friday—French. On Thursday we usually have a meal in a restaurant for anyone who wants to come.

W: Well, that sounds great. I really need to practice my French.

M: OK. Well, if you can just give me your name and address, I'll send you the form and some more information. If you join now, you can have the first month free.

The site will be divided into six areas. In the center, there will be a flower show. It is a good place to take pictures. To the side of the flower show, there will be two areas for amusement rides. We will set up 30 rides in these areas. This year, there will be two new events—a fancy dress competition and an ice sculpture exhibition. We will set up a tent for the fancy dress competition. If you are good at designing clothes, bring your works to the competition. Finally, next to the entrance, there will be four food shops where visitors can enjoy food from around the world, such as Italian food, Chinese food, Japanese food, Mexican food and so on. We have attached a map for your reference. You can pick one up at the ticket office. That's all. Thank you.

Moving Towards Living Independently

To further improve the students' independent sense of life, our school recently held an activity entitled "Moving Towards Living Independently". Students of all grades were actively involved.

Considering cooking is an essential life skill and that I'm obsessed with all kinds of delicious food, I chose cooking as my practice project. I surfed the Internet and watched lots of short videos, which gave me much information about cooking techniques. I also turned to my parents for help. They patiently explained their daily routine to me and removed some of my misconceptions about cooking. And luckily, I made it finally.

In the process of cooking, I not only learned the importance of independence, but also experienced the difficulty in becoming independent.

Jayon finally loved reading. He told me he would even read to his own dog at home. His wonderful teacher also kept me up to date with his progress in class. It was wonderful to hear that not only had his reading improved dramatically but his writing, focus and behaviour had also improved! By the end of the last term of school, he had climbed 9... yes, 9 reading levels! Each week I was shocked at how much he had improved and how he would absolutely nail those big words which was once very scary!

I was told that Jayon would receive the Growth Award at the end of year. I was fortunate to be able to witness the wonderful moment when Jayon was presented with his award. And I was extremely proud that the Story Dogs program was given some credit to his achievement, alongside the hard work and patience of his teachers. It was an emotional and proud moment for his lovely family as well who were very grateful to Rosie and me! All of my students looked forward to Rosie and me visiting every week! Knowing that my beautiful Rosie and I can have such a huge impact on their future makes it all worthwhile!
