Notice

To help you further understand Chinese culture, Our school will organize a trip to the Confucius Temple. I'd like to share with you some details about it.

As scheduled, we will meet at 7:30 a.m. on Thursday at the school gate. We will first visit the Confucius Temple, where you can learn much about Confucius and have a deeper understanding of the traditional Chinese culture. Then, we will visit some ancient architecture. After that, we are going to enjoy some puppet shows. You will be greatly impressed with it. Finally, we can taste some special snacks, which are truly delicious. By the way, knowing briefly about the Confucius culture in advance would be quite helpful.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me! Looking forward to seeing you.

听力材料:

(Text 1)

W: Peter, how is the weather now? Is it still raining?

M: No, but there's still lots of clouds. The weatherman said the sun wouldn't come out until next week.

(Text 2)

M: Excuse me, when will Flight Number TV 9866 from Shanghai arrive?

W: It was scheduled to arrive at 3:00 pm, but it will be delayed for an hour and a half.

(Text 3)

W: What's your vacation plan this year? Travelling in London or just staying at home?

M: Neither. My aunt invited us to her home. So I will go there with my family.

(Text 4)

M: I can't see the blackboard clearly when I sit at the back of the classroom.

W: Well, you've been wearing the same glasses since I knew you. It's time for a new pair.

(Text 5)

M: Down the hall is the entrance to the swimming pool. And over there is the classroom where we host our classes like yoga and cycling.

W: Wow, this is great! I'd like to sign up for a membership card.

(Text 6)

W: It's Jane's birthday today. We are going to the cinema after school. Want to go?

M: After school? I have got to study for the math test tomorrow. When will the film start?

W: At 4:45.

M: I think I'll stay back in school and do some review, and then I will join you.

W: OK. We'll get the tickets first. You meet us at Kristy's Corner a quarter earlier before the film starts. We'll be having some ice-cream there before the film starts.

M: OK. What about going to a bookstore after the film? There is a sale.

(Text 7)

M: Hello, Tony speaking.

W: Hi, it's Susan from your flat in Arawa Street.

M: Oh, Susan. What can I do for you?

W: Um, we've got a bit of problem. I was cooking dinner last night and I had some stuff in the cooker. After a while I realized it wasn't cooking. The cooker was on, but it wasn't getting hot. I was wondering if you could come and have a look at it for us.

M: Was it working before yesterday?

W: Yeah, it's been working fine, but for some reason we couldn't get it going last night. We use it quite a lot so it would be good if we could get it fixed.

M: OK, I'll come around and have a look. If I can't fix it, I'll get an electrician in.

(Text 8)

M: So, next year you're going to start your A levels. Which subject are you going to choose?

W: I'm surely going to choose Spanish because it is my favorite subject and then I'm not really sure... I'd like to do art but I don't know if it's very useful for my career.

M: What do you want to do?

W: A journalist. That has been my dream since my childhood. So, guess history or psychology or something is probably more useful for my career.

M: Do you want to go to university?

W: Yeah, but I'm not going to start university straight after I leave school. I'm planning to have a gap year, you know, a break from studying for a while.

M: And what would you like to do in your gap year? Any ideas?

W: I want to travel... I'd like to go to Italy and learn Italian. I don't know if it's really practical but that's my dream!

(Text 9)

M: Hi, it's Charles Nelson. I have a reservation for tonight.

W: Hmm. . . Nelson. You have booked a room for five, right?

M: No, no. Hold on, there must be some mistake.

W: Okay. Let's check. . . Here, Mr. Charles C. Nelson for tonight. . .

M: Ah, my name is Charles Nelson, not Charles C. Nelson.

W: I'm sorry. Let me check this again. Oh, yes. Charles Nelson, a room for one for the 19th of May.

M: No, a room for tonight, not for tomorrow evening.

W: I'm really sorry, but I don't think we have any rooms for tonight. Well, let me check my computer here. Ah! There has been a cancellation for this evening. A honeymoon room is now available.

M: Great. I'll take it.

W: But I'll have to charge you 250 dollars for the night. Well, the best I can give you is a 10% discount plus a ticket for a free breakfast.

Good morning. This is Lydia speaking. Now I have no other choice but to call you to complain about the recent purchase of a woolen sweater from your department store on Philip Street, on September 25th. I recently washed the sweater in cool water, following the instructions. However, when I moved it from the machine, the sweater became too large and wrinkled and no longer fit me well. I phoned the store last Tuesday, which was October 12th, and spoke to the shop assistant, a Mr. Morris, who was rather rude on the phone and informed me that I could not get a replacement sweater as it was purchased at a reduced price. Later I phoned again but once more received a cold answer from one of your helpline staff that she could do nothing to help. I felt really upset, for I have been a regular customer of your store for many years and until this incident, I've never had any complaints. I must tell you, I feel disappointed to be treated in such a manner. I demand an apology for this manner. And I think you should have a talk with your workers. I'm expecting you to ring me back as soon as possible.
