Text 1

M: You are late again, Mary.
W: Sorry, sir. My mother is in hospital, so no one woke me up this morning.

Text 2

W: Did you have good weather in London last week?
M: It's cloudy the whole weekdays, but I finally saw the sun at the weekend.

Text 3

M: I'm thinking of taking my kid to the Golden Beach in the holidays. How much would it cost on the bus?
W: Right, you'd qualify for a family ticket, which is the cheapest way to do it. It'll be $65 altogether—normally a kid's fare is $35 and an adult is $50.

Text 4

M: Good evening. Do you have a reservation, Madam?
W: Yes. The name is Julia.
M: Yes, right this way. And may I get you something to drink?

W: Just water for now. Could you give me a wake-up call?

Text 5

M: How was your holiday, Nancy?
W: Not so good. I went on a trip to London, but the flight was delayed for the bad weather for about half day. Fortunately, the traveling in London was fantastic. I love all the sightseeing in the city.

Text 6

W: Where have you been? You missed the announcement about the music festival.

M: Music festival?

W: Yes, it's going to be next month on the school sports field, John. you can play the piano. How about playing it at the festival?

M: Well, I'd rather play the violin. I can play Liang Zhu.

W: Wow! Sounds good.

M: What about you, Debbie?

W: Actually, I don't have much music ability. I'd prefer just to help out with the crowds.

M: You can sell tickets or work at a food stand.

W: So I can assume that the aim of the festival is to raise money.

M: Yes. All of the money will go to homeless kids.

W: Well, if it's for a good cause, everyone should take part!

Text 7

M: Hello. I'm ringing about the Dragon Boat Race that you're asking people to take part in. I don't even know when and where it's being held.

W: It's taking place on the 2nd July.

M: Is that a Saturday?

W: No, it's a Sunday. It's a much more popular day and more people can take part then. It will be at the Brighton Marina.

M: That's good. What time does the race start?

W: Well, the first heats begin at 10:00 am—but you need to register half an hour before that.

M: Is there any other prize?

W: Yes, every member will be entered into a free Prize Draw.

M: Oh, what's the prize?

W: It's pretty good—it's a holiday in Hong Kong.

Text 8

W: Oh. So what's your problem?

M: Well, recently I've been getting this pain here, just behind my eyes, in the forehead.

W: And how's your health generally? Have you had any colds or flu recently?

M: I had a cold a couple of weeks ago, but that's gone. I only sneezed a little.

W: What time do you go to bed?

M: Usually around 11. I sleep about 8-and-a-half hours, and I'm up at about 7:30 so I have time to go jogging for half an hour before going into the university at 9.

W: Ah, When did you last visit the doctor for your eyes?

M: I don't remember. When I was a child, I suppose.

W: OK. Well, I think first you should get that done again, just to make sure it's not the cause. Ask the receptionist to give you an appointment with the doctor for eyes. He's here on Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

Text 9

W: Oh, hi, George, how's it going?

M: Hi Martina, it's going well. How about you? How's university life?

W: Well, it's great—apart from the studying of course.

M: What are you studying? I remember that you were going to do Art. That was your best subject, wasn't it?

W: No, not really. My favorite subject was History but I couldn't see what career that would give me.

M: Then what did you choose?

W: I was really good at Science but I must admit I never really enjoyed studying it. So, in the end I decided to select English which was my second favorite subject. Um, how are you finding university?

M: Well, it's a bit of a challenge I suppose. It's Maths that I'm struggling with. It's a lot harder than it was at high school.

W: I can believe it. It all sounds very difficult to me. We have a lot of lectures—and that's fine. The lecturers are very knowledgeable and I learn a lot from them.

Now let me tell you about our fitness holidays. In Italy we run one-week general fitness classes for all ages and levels of fitness. As well as improving general fitness, people find that they end up losing much of the stress they've built up in their daily lives. In Greece, we have a two-week holiday for those who want to do something about their weight. This has all the features you'd expect, like a personalized diet programme, but one of its most popular features is that the exercise classes are all held on the beach. People say it's far preferable to being in a gym. Finally, we offer several holidays in Morocco. A very popular one is the mountain biking holiday. Bikes are provided and there are different routes according to people's ability. We offer one which can meet the needs of individuals, which is particularly popular. OK, so that's about all the time I have today, so thank you very much.
