(Text 1)

W: Lily thought she saw a big cat on the side of the road. Do you think it was a mountain lion?

M: I don't think they live around here. She probably just saw a fox.

(Text 2)

W: I like this city, but Rome is really my favorite place to live. How do you like here?

M: I agree that London is nice, but it's too big for me. I would rather be in a smaller city like Paris.

(Text 3)

W: I'm not feeling well. Can we go visit your parents tomorrow?

M: Of course we can. Do you think you need to go to the doctor?

W: No, I think I just need some rest in my bed.

(Text 4)

M: The summer is running away from us. We need to finally spend some time at the beach.

W: How about going this Saturday? We only need to wait for two days. Let's get ready tomorrow.

(Text 5)

M: Your hair looks good today, Masha.

W: What do you mean, Matt? Does it usually look bad?

M: Don't get angry. I meant that it looks even better than usual.

(Text 6)

W: Playing hockey on the ice during the winter is so much fun. It is our favorite game in Canada.

M: I have actually never played hockey. We always play football in the grass or basketball on the court. I like soccer the most.

W: That's a shame. I like hockey better than those for sure, but you have different weather in America, which means you like different sports.

M: That's true. I wonder why soccer is popular in both warm and cold places. I just know that soccer is more popular in Russia, because it's so cold that people need to do more exercises to get warmer.

(Text 7)

W: Excuse me, sir. Would you please put out that cigarette?

M: Oh, I'm sorry. Is my smoke getting inside? I am almost done, but I'll put it out now.

W: Actually, you are breaking our rules. You are supposed to smoke three meters away from the entrance.

M: Oh, I didn't mean to do that. I hope you're not angry with me. I'm a bit embarrassed of myself.

W: It is fine. It happens all the time, but our outdoor tables are right here and people don't want smoke where they are eating. Usually my customers walk to the street to smoke.

M: Of course. It's no problem. I'm happy to move. Sorry again.

(Text 8)

M: I lost my library book, madam. What should I do?

W: Oh, that's too bad! Well, you can replace it with another copy.

M: I've already looked at several bookstores, but I've had no luck finding a same one.

W: Did you try looking online? There are several stores that might sell the book.

M: I didn't. Would you give me their names?

W: Sure. Let me see... You've lost a pretty rare book. I'll write down the popular stores. They sell books that are hard to find.

M: Thank you. What if I can't find another one?

W: Well, then you will have to pay the cost of the book, It's an old book, too, so it might be expensive.

M: I'll try hard to find a copy, then.

W: Good luck.

(Text 9)

W: I love my job. I can take holiday at any time I want, as long as I finish my work on time. I can even work at home two days a week!

M: Wow, that's amazing! What kind of work do you do, Lisa?

W: I'm a computer programmer.

M: Oh! I thought you were an editor for a fashion magazine.

W: I did until last May. Then I decided I wanted a more challenging job.

M: Well, how did you learn to program? Didn't you study English in college?

W: Yes. A friend told me about a three-month course that would teach me how to be a computer programmer. So, I quit my job, completed the course, and got a job very quickly.

M: What do you think about this kind of work? Besides the nice vacations, I mean.

W: I think it fits me well. I like figuring out solutions to problems. There are a lot of problems in this type of work!

M: It sounds more exciting than my job as a bank clerk. Maybe I could train to become a programmer, too.

(Text 10)

Let me introduce you to the Dubai Miracle Garden. We opened on Valentine's Day in 2013—the perfect day to open the world's largest natural flower garden! Within over 72 thousand square meters, we have over 50 million flowers and 250 million plants. Here you will not only find beautiful walkways and sitting places to view the flowers, but you will also see many structures that are covered in flowers. These will be familiar to most visitors, such as the Egyptian pyramids, a Disney character, and even a full-size airplane! In 2016, this flower airplane won an award for being the world's largest flower display. Our Mickey Mouse is made of green plants as well as flowers. In 2018, it won the award for being the tallest plant structure in the world at 18 meters high. Other popular attractions include full-size houses made entirely of flowers and the new Butterfly Garden with 15 thousand butterflies. Be sure to visit between October and April, as the garden is usually closed during the summer.

Dear Tom,

It is quite normal for teenagers to feel nervous whenever they are taking an important exam. After all, sometimes your parents pay too much attention to your grades. Try these pieces of advice and see if they help.

First of all, there is no need to worry too much about the results. Make careful plans for every exam and study hard every day. In this way we can relieve pressure of exams. Besides, enough sleep can make us feel energetic and enable us to perform better in an exam. Therefore, you should not stay up late during the period of exams.

I sincerely hope that you will find my advice helpful. I wish you all the best.

Yours,

Li Hua

She was working on the last question when she saw that Terry had her phone under the table. Ella nodded to Mr. Read. Mr. Read went to Terry quietly and picked up Terry's phone. All was clear, Mr. Read asked her to leave the classroom. Terry walked out crying. Everyone was staring at her and Ella felt really relaxed.

Ella was walking towards the school gate when she saw Terry waiting for her there. "Ella, please wait." Terry said, "I'm sorry I haven't answered any of your calls, but my dad's been ill for two weeks and had a heart operation today. During exams I was reading texts from my mum to see how it was going. I have explained to Mr. Read and he asked me to take the exam again. I'm sorry I didn't tell you what was happening." Ella couldn't help crying, either. "You should have told me this earlier. Let me know if you have difficulties. We are true friends."
