Speaking About My Favorite History Book

Aimed to arouse our interest in English and history, an English speech named “My favorite history book” was launched by Students’ Union last Tuesday, which turned out to be a hit.

As scheduled, students gathered at the school hall at 2 p.m. on Tuesday. After the hosts introduced the topic, 15 students delivered their speeches in turn. They were excellent in both the language and the outline besides their perfect gestures and facial expressions.

Not only did the activity improve our English ability, but it also provided a great chance for us to show ourselves.

第二节 读后续写 (满分 25 分) 67.

After selecting Carl as her partner, Jenny needed to start planning for the dance competition at her school. Having chosen the song most beautiful for them, they began to learn dancing. Lacking relevant skills, Carl found it challenging. However, it didn't discourage him. For the duration of practising, Jenny always taught him patiently and encouraged him consistently. In an effort to gain the first place, they were absorbed in dance training, sometimes even skipping meals. How time flew! Two months slipped away, and the competition was arriving. It was the long before their turn.

Jenny and Carl went up to the stage and were ready to perform. Upon hearing the music, nervous and excited, they took a deep breath and started dancing, wearing sweet smiles on their faces. In the end, they completed the performance fluently and perfectly. The moment they finished dancing, applause filled the hall. What surprised them was that they were champions. No words were enough to convey the delight. All pictures of previous practice flashed across them. It was their hard work and perseverance that helped them succeed.
