One possible version

A survey named "What did You do for Your Mother on International Women's Day?" was conducted in our school. There are many things students can do to express best wishes to their mothers. The survey shows that most students prefer to text or give gifts to their mothers while doing housework and communicating with mother face to face prove to be less popular, accounting for 20% and 10% respectively.

The results are interesting, indicating that the mother-kid relationship is quite different from what it used to be. But as for me, I'd rather choose to go for a walk with my mother and we will take the chance to chat happily together. I hold the view that what mothers really need is their children's understanding and trust.

So why not seize the chance and communicate with your mother more?
