Text 2

M: Hi, Lucy! Would you like to go to a movie this afternoon?

W: I wish I could. But I have to spend the rest of the day in the library. I have an essay to write.

Text 3

W: You cannot wear that for a party, John. It's black.

M: What's wrong with the black shirt?

W: It doesn't look like you're going to a party.

W: The SAT test was so long!

M: Four hours! I'm worn out.

W: Same here. I really hope I do not have to take that test again!

M: The scores will be out in a few weeks.

W: Have you decided what to study in college? I'm thinking about majoring in English.

M: English is a good choice for you. I am considering Science.

W: I thought you might choose medicine.

M: I've changed my mind. Anyway, it is too early to determine anything yet. I am just hoping to get into a college!

W: Let's just keep doing our best!

W: It's a beautiful day but so hot!

M: It will be cooler on the island.

W: I hope so. I've never been on a boat like this before. How long is it to the island?

M: It takes about an hour. It is a clear day so you will see it soon.

W: Does anyone live there?

M: Only in summer, when visitors go to see the ancient castle. In winter I suppose people might go sometimes, but not to stay.

W: I expect it is very windy in winter.

M: Yes, and sometimes there is a heavy snow. The journey can be dangerous.

W: Perhaps we can buy souvenirs when we get there.

M: Yes, there's a little gift shop.

W: I just can't wait to get there!

W: Excuse me, do you have a few minutes? I work for the Star Bookstore and we are doing a survey about people's reading habits. I want to ask you a couple of questions.

M: Yes, alright. What would you like to know?

W: Well, what three categories of books do you prefer to read?

M: Hmm, I absolutely love adventure stories best. I am also interested in historical novels. And recently I've read several biographies.

W: OK. Where do you buy your books? In stores or on the Internet?

M: About two thirds of my books are bought from online bookstores. Sometimes I go to a bookstore if I see something interesting in the window. I also borrow books from friends or from the library.

Text 10

I love working in the music business. Every day is different to me. The first thing I do every day is to check my e-mail messages from fans and write a couple of replies. Then I surf around on some music websites to see what the music journalists say about me.

Then I leave the house and go to a small French cafe for breakfast. I enjoy relaxing with a cup of coffee, watching the world going by. At about eleven o'clock, my car arrives and takes me to the studio, where I meet the other members of the band and start working. Usually, we begin with the problems of the previous day. At about three in the afternoon, we stop for lunch. After that we continue recording. I am careful with my voice. I never sing if I feel tired and I drink a lot of water during the day.

I usually arrive home at about half past six or seven. I never go to bed too late as I don't want to be too tired for the studio.

第一节

One possible version:

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am a senior student with a passion for teaching. I am writing to apply for the position as a volunteer teacher.

During the past three years, I have been actively involved in student teaching activities. Meanwhile, I have also participated in various educational activities in my school and community, such as organizing lectures and seminars on various topics. Possessing necessary skills, such as patience, communication and organizational skills, I believe that I am capable of providing students with quality education. Above all, I am also familiar with the latest teaching methods and willing to learn more about them.

Hopefully, I'd be grateful if you could offer me the opportunity. Looking forward to your early reply.

Yours sincerely,

Li Hua

第二节

One possible version:

Everyone came up to lend a hand. I struggled to catch the dog and, with everyone's help, we managed to pull her to safety. And then we saw a beautiful sight: In Fetch's mouth, hanging by the back of his neck, was Droopy. The cheers from the kids for Fetch and Droopy could be heard blocks away. Fetch let go of the cat. Droopy rubbed his face against the dog, briefly forgetting their past differences. Fetch barked in appreciation as if she had been chosen Best at the biggest Dog Show in the world.

Since then, the walk has been the same as before but different. Each time we go walking, Fetch still stops by Droopy's window after that adventure. They wave their tails and greet each other in a more friendly way. I think they have gained a common respect for each other, and they go for a walk, play happily together and become good friends as well.
