M: Hello. International Friends Club. Can I help you?

W: Oh, hello. I read about your club in the paper today and I thought I'd phone to find out a bit more.

M: Yes, certainly. Well, we are a sort of social club for people from different countries. It's quite a new club—we have about 50 members at the moment, but we are growing all the time.

W: That sounds interesting. I'm British actually, and I came to Washington about three months ago. I'm looking for ways to meet people. Er, what kinds of events do you organize?

M: Well, we have social get-togethers, and sports events, and we also have language evenings.

W: Could you tell me something about the language evenings?

M: Yes. Every day except Thursday we have a language evening. People can come and practice their languages—you know, over a drink or something. We have different languages on different evenings. Monday—Spanish; Tuesday—Italian; Wednesday—German; and Friday—French. On Thursday we usually have a meal in a restaurant for anyone who wants to come.

W: Well, that sounds great. I really need to practice my French.

M: OK. Well, if you can just give me your name and address, I'll send you the form and some more information. If you join now you can have the first month free.

M: OK, but you'd recommend a taxi, would you?

M: That's a tough one. I promised my friends to visit them this weekend. Have you checked with Martin?

W: Yes, I did. He can't do it either since he has an exam next week.

M: That's too bad. I wish I could help you. Wait, I have an idea. I know Greg is looking for some part-time job. Maybe you can look him up for help.

W: I almost forgot about him. I'm praying he will help me because the professor is really strict about late assignments.

M: You took an English class by Professor Stanford, didn't you?

W: I sure did.

M: Well, I've heard lots about her and I'm thinking about taking her Basics in English class next term. What's your opinion about the class?

W: The class was interesting enough, but Professor Sanford is one of the strictest teachers I have ever had. She expects a great deal from her students. So if you plan to take the course, be prepared to work very hard. But she's an extremely intelligent person and she expects similar brilliance from her students.

M: Is she reasonable?

W: Yes, she most definitely is. To be honest, I really liked her. I just hated all the readings we had to do in classical literature.

M: Well, I happened to like classical literature.

W: Really? I was more interested in cultural comparison and we barely touched that.

W: There is nowhere else on earth like Kakadu National Park in the northern area of Australia. Here, in this vast area of land, the size of Belgium, or half of the size of Austria, you will see sights that will take your breath away. There are so many things to do, so it's not easy to choose. Kakadu Cultural Camp was a good choice, but we finally decided on the Yellow Water Cruise, which is more popular. It was a wonderful experience and probably the best attraction in Kakadu National Park. We were highly impressed as we had just returned from Kruger National Park in South Africa and were worried the experience wouldn't be so good. Happily, the Yellow Water Cruise was surely the highlight of Kakadu. We bought the Sunrise & Sunset ticket from the website, as they were offering a low price. During the tour of the Yellow Water Cruise, we could easily walk around and take pictures of various fish and active bird life which exists in the wet season. And the prettiest is the Azure Kingfisher, a brightly-colored bird hunting fish, which is the most impressive part of the tour.

Dear Miss Yang,

I'm Li Hua, a senior high school student in our school. Knowing that our school English journal is collecting beneficial activities from students, I'd like to recommend watching patriotic films to promote national spirit.

To begin with, it is a good idea to watch patriotic films, which helps us have a better understanding of the history of our country. Besides, watching patriotic films can make us students admire our national heroes instead of some pop stars. Finally, it inspires us to love our country and cherish peace because our present happy life is gained through the sacrifice of national heroes.

I'd appreciate it if you took my opinions into careful consideration.

Yours,

Li Hua
