NOTICE

In order to enrich students' after-school activities, the International Department of our school will organize a tour of visiting Beijing Ancient Architecture Museum. This museum is famous all over the country for its unique exhibits which can show you the abundance and greatness of Beijing ancient architecture.

As scheduled, all the students are required to gather at 9 a.m. on Sunday morning. During your visit, a knowledgeable guide will provide you with some information about the most valuable cultural heritages in details. In order to maintain the order, each class has to stand in line and takes turns to enter. Everyone must keep quiet during the visit. What calls for special attention is that no video or photo is allowed without permission.

Hope you will have a good time.

第二节（满分 25 分）

When Matt came to, he found himself stuck in the darkness. He lay on his stomach, trying to move. His left leg had been twisted and couldn't move at all. He realized to his horror that he was buried alive. "Nora! Nora!" he called, but there was no response. In fact, he could hear nothing at all. The whole world was dead silent. Despair washed over him. He asked himself again and again,

“Who is going to save me?”

It was not until the next morning that the rescuers finally arrived. Without any hesitation, they started searching for survivors. They soon discovered signs of life beneath the remains of the hotel. It took a great effort to remove the thick snow before they could begin cutting into the roof. With an opening made, they carefully lowered themselves down into the hotel. Once they were inside, they heard a weak voice crying for help. It was Matt. He and his wife were rescued, along with all the other survivors. The couple felt lucky to be alive!
