Dear Chris,

I'm writing to invite you to participate in a charity sale in our school. With the purpose of helping children in remote mountainous areas, we plan to donate some useful studying items to cover the shortage of their studying materials.

The charity sale is scheduled on our school playground next Saturday from 8:00 am to 11:00 am. Our classmates intend to sell some used clothes and shoes on that day. After the sale, we'll give away the money to the children for different school supplies, such as books, stationery and learning materials.

I've known that you are a warm-hearted person, passionate about helping others. So I think it a good chance to show your love and affection. Our classmates will be in great delight if you can join us.

Text 1

W: What's the weather like in London now? Is it raining?

M: No, it hasn't rained at all since I arrived. It was very grey and cloudy this morning but it's a lovely sunny day at present.

Text 2

W: Can you come to my wedding on May 23rd?

M: Oh, what a pity! That's when I'm away on business.

Text 3

W: This is delicious! How did you cook it? I've never been able to eat something like this.

M: I spent three years in France as a young boy. I learned a lot of amazing techniques there.

W: You're a true artist!

Text 4

M: I'd like to make an appointment to see Dr. Smith tomorrow.

W: I'm sorry. Dr. Smith just came back from Florence, and now he is attending a meeting in Seattle. He'll probably be back to New York the day after tomorrow.

Text 5

W: Hi, Jim, you don't look very happy?

M: Yeah, there are many excellent students in our class now. I don't feel like I'm making as much progress even though I spare no efforts to study.

W: That's too bad.

Text 6

M: I'm ready for the concert. Oh, where's Mary?

W: She's taking her son to the police station. Someone took their money and passports. So just the two of us could go to the concert. So where is it?

M: At the Royal Albert Hall.

W: I know. Let's take a taxi.

M: Oh, no. Taxis here are too expensive. We can take the underground. We can take the Black Line here, then change to the Victoria Line, then the District Line...

W: OK. Let's go.

Text 7

W: Mike, you look a bit tired today. Did you stay up late again last night?

M: No. I went to bed around 10:30 last night. But my roommate Tom was writing his paper. I couldn't fall asleep with the light on.

W: Why didn't you ask Tom to do it this morning instead?

M: That's exactly what I did. But he didn't listen.

W: So when did he go to bed last night?

M: Well, he kept me awake for almost two hours.

Text 8

M: Hi, good morning, Lisa

W: Good morning, Jim. I went to a play last night with a few of my friends. We saw Careless Paradise at the Westmont Theater.

M: Oh, really? I've been trying to see that for weeks, but I've been so busy. You know I have a report that's due tomorrow. What did you think of it?

W: The characters were quite interesting and special, but I had a lot of trouble understanding the plot. It was hard to follow. Actually, a few people from our office are seeing it tomorrow night. I'm going to watch it again and hopefully I'll know what's going on this time. Would you like to join us?

M: I wish I could, but I'm afraid I'm going out of town tomorrow night. Our boss will be away on business and I'll drive him to the airport.

W: Oh, that's a pity.

Text 9

M: Hi, Grace. It's Roger here. I'm calling about the computer you have for sale on eBay.

W: Hi, Roger. Thanks for calling. I'm just cleaning it. How much did you want to spend?

M: My budget is around $500.

W: The computer is listed for $500, and I need at least $50 for the monitor. I can't go any lower than that.

M: I can do $525. Deal? It's for my daughter. She really needs a computer for school.

W: I see. I can agree to $525. No problem. How about if we meet tomorrow?

M: Tomorrow, I have to take her to school, then soccer practice after that. How about Wednesday morning at nine?

W: I can do Wednesday at ten in the morning.

M: OK, great. I will see you then. Please text your address to me at 555-6789. I didn't see your address in the ad.

Text 10

Ok, today I'd like to talk something about first aid. Well, if you burn your hand, you should put it in cool water, for at least 20 minutes. If you are using running water, that makes a difference. Maybe 10 minutes is enough. For a fever, well, I know people often think they should keep warm, but actually it is important to let your body get cool, so really the best thing is to open the window and let the wind in, or even get in a bath to bring the temperature down. Now the thing about backache is that the ideas have changed. It certainly used to be true in the old days that you had to go to bed and lie down, but of course that's not going to help your muscles. You'll find it even more difficult to move if you don't use them at all, so now we recommend that you keep moving, gently, of course. We don't want you to go and lift heavy boxes or anything like that.
