第四部分 第一节

Yuan Longping is known for the father of hybrid rice. He devotes his life to make not only China as making but also the world free from hunger. He has two dreams. One is to enjoy the cool under the rice tree. The other is that his hybrid rice can be grown global. But turning dreams into reality are hard to globally is achieve, what takes a lot of time and efforts. For me, my dream is to be an English teacher. I wish to which an spread these story of some Chinese heroes to the world. And I wish my students can value food or be stories and grateful to Yuan Longping as well. In order to make my dream came true, all the things I have to do it come to work hard.

第四部分 第二节

For better promotion of our traditional Chinese cultures, our club is in great need of new members who have a strong preference for Chinese cultures. Our club, whose name is TCC Club, was founded in 2018. Since then, it has been dedicated to traditional Chinese culture promotion and enjoyed constant popularity among students.

As one of the most influential clubs in our school, we have never failed to provide us students with many benefits. To begin with, we can give you overall insight into our valuable cultures. Besides, some meaningful activities organized on a regular basis will strengthen your competence in cooperation and management. Most importantly, your circle of friends who share the same interest will also be extended.

英语试卷参考答案 第 1 页 (共 4 页)

With the advantages mentioned above, I strongly recommend our club to you and your participation deserves our expectation.

Text 1

W: Mike, how is the weather in your place? It's raining really hard where I am now. The road is already flooded.

M: I don't think it will rain. The clouds do not seem that heavy to me.

Text 2

W: I broke my sister's mirror. I'm sure it'll get her back up. I really don't know how I can escape punishment.

M: You'd better tell your sister what happened and face the music.

Text 3

M: I want to have Mexican food for dinner.

W: I'm tired of Mexican food. Besides, you picked the restaurant last Sunday.

M: OK, you win. You pick the restaurant this time.

W: Hmm... I prefer a Chinese restaurant or an Italian restaurant.

Text 4

W: Excuse me, I think you charged me too much for the coffee.

M: Oh, let me check. Hmm... ma'am, it's correct.

W: But the coffee is only $3 each cup.

M: You are right, but you drank two.

Text 5

W: This is Sports Center. May I help you?

M: I bought an exercise bike from your store last year, and there's something wrong with it now. I need to have it repaired.

W: Let me connect you to the service department. One moment please.

Text 6

M: I want to improve my handwriting. I've been practicing it for several weeks, but nothing improved. You see, my handwriting is still bad.

W: Oh, come on. You know it's a long process, and you have to be patient.

M: I know it, but I don't know when I can make it better.

W: Steve, whatever you do, the most important thing is perseverance. So you have to hang on, the longer, the better. Then someday, you'll make great progress.

M: Yeah, you are right. I must stop complaining and stick to it every day.

Text 7

M: Hey, Mandy, throw your stuff in the back and sit in the front with me.

W: Okay, Brendan. Thank you for giving me a ride home. I didn't want to call my parents because they were at Mimi's Cafe for my aunt's birthday.

M: Mimi's Cafe? That place has the best burgers in town! The atmosphere there is also good. Good food and a good setting, what more could you ask for? We can eat there after our next basketball game.

W: Yes, that sounds like a good plan. When is our next game by the way?

M: I think it is after winter break, which is a long way off.

Text 8

W: Chocolate gives me the same feeling as being in love. William, what kind of chocolate bars do you like to eat?

M: Well, white chocolate is too sweet. Dark chocolate is too bitter. I guess my favorite is old-fashioned milk chocolate. It's the best.

W: I like everything about chocolate, such as chocolate milk, chocolate ice cream and chocolate covered nuts and cookies.

M: You know, chocolate is made from cocoa beans. The Mexican Indians invented cocoa powder. The Spanish brought it to Europe and from there it went everywhere. Most people are crazy about chocolate nowadays.

W: That's right! I'm really addicted. I guess I'm a chocoholic!

Text 9

M: Hi, how have you been?

W: I'm doing great. How are you?

M: I'm also good. Let's plan a get-together next weekend.

W: Oh, that's a fabulous idea! How about having a picnic?

M: That sounds fun. One of my friends went to Botanix Nature Resort last month with his family and he really enjoyed there.

W: Where is the resort? I have never heard about it.

M: It's about 50 km from Delhi and is built in a 30-acre park. It's a place full of adventure sports. What do you say?

W: It seems like a really good place. Let me discuss it with other friends and by this weekend we would make a decision.

Text 10

M: Good morning, everyone. I'm Larry Chickola, the vice president and chief corporate engineer of Six Flags theme parks. I've always loved theme parks. Growing up, I would visit Cedar Point amusement park, in Sandusky, Ohio. That's where I first rode the Corkscrew roller coaster. It was awesome. I dreamed of becoming an engineer, and studied mechanical engineering in college. It didn't occur to me that I could design roller coasters for a living. Then a friend told me about a job at Six Flags: roller-coaster engineer. I jumped at the opportunity. As chief engineer, I oversee the design and construction of rides at Six Flags parks all over the world. In North America alone, there are more than 1,000 rides in these parks, including 157 roller coasters. Right now, our engineers are designing the tallest, fastest and longest roller coaster that has ever been built. It's called Falcon's Flight. It'll be the main attraction at Six Flags in Saudi Arabia. My job involves creativity and problem-solving. For instance, I wanted to make roller coasters accessible to people with disabilities. So I worked with engineers to install a system that would make the rides inclusive. I often walk around the Six Flags Great Adventure Park in Jackson Township, New Jersey. That's where my office is. I like to observe visitors and figure out what makes a ride fun for them.
