应用文:

Dear Jack,

How is everything going? I am writing to give you an update on our project for the upcoming Science and Technology Innovation Competition on campus, themed “Technology Changes Life”, for which I’m asking you for constructive advice and generous help.

Currently, our team are working tirelessly on an Intelligent Dustbin, aimed at sorting out household rubbish more effectively according to its properties. Though integrating our creative ideas and joint effort, we are hitting a bottleneck that the bin can’t rid the bad smell and stay dry. As a technical genius, your feedback and assistance in improving our project are highly appreciated. I enclose here with a video and data about the bin.

Your expertise and insight will undoubtedly help our project stand out in the competition, thus truly changing our life. Thank you in advance for your time and consideration.

读后续写: One possible version:

Ruth felt her heart almost burst, and she turned and raced towards the village. She looked up at the sun, which rises each day, and sets, and rises again. So does the moon and the tides roll in and out. Ruth knew just what to do. She ran to gather all her friends. Together, the children began to walk the beach, collecting whatever they could find. By nightfall, they were at work building a wall, setting the framework, piling the collections up and reinforcing their great project. At dawn the next day, when Papa Lorne awoke and poked his head out of his hut, he could not believe the sight — a new seawall.

Papa Lorne wept with joy looking at the children’s masterpiece. Never did he expect such marvelous labor from the children, but now the spark of hope was shining again in the dull village. “You see, Papa Lorne,” Ruth comforted him, “It doesn’t matter that your wall did not last. What you have taught us will last.” Ever since that day, all those children have taught their children, too, how to build a wall to safeguard the beautiful beach and home. And on that island there always stands a seawall known as Papa Lorne’s wall.

Text 1

M: Hello, I’d like to rent a boat for six hours. How much do I need to pay?

W: This two-seat boat costs $10 an hour. That big one is for four people and it costs $15 an hour.

M: OK. It’ll just be the two of us.

Text 2

M: Look out of the window. It’s windy and cloudy outside. It looks a little scary. Did you see the weather forecast today?

W: Yes, it said there would be heavy rain this afternoon.

Text 3

M: Judy, do you want to see a movie? Oh, you look upset. What’s the matter?

W: My paper is giving me a terrible headache. It’s due next Monday.

M: Oh, I handed mine in last week.

Text 4

W: Excuse me. May I have the bill, please?

M: OK. It’s 120 yuan in total.

W: All right. Can you give me two doggy bags? I want to pack the leftovers.

M: Sure. No problem. Here you are.

Text 5

M: Let’s meet at 7:30 p.m. outside the cinema.

W: I think we should go there earlier.

M: There are some advertisements before the movie starts, so 7:30 p.m. is a good time.

Text 6

M: Hey, Lisa. How was your weekend?

W: Well, pretty busy. On Saturday morning, I went to the gym to exercise. Then I went to do a part-time job in the afternoon. And I cleaned and shopped with my mother in the evening.

M: So what did you do on Sunday?

W: I spent the day in the library preparing for the upcoming exam.

M: Oh no, I forgot we would have an exam! I need to hurry up.

W: Don’t worry. You’re always ready for any exam.

Text 7

M: Who is the creative person that you admire?

W: Well, Mr. Brown. He is an extremely creative math teacher.

M: So why do you admire him?

W: I used to hate math so much before I had Mr. Brown’s lessons. Now I find math quite attractive.

M: That’s great. Does anyone you know admire him?

W: Certainly. All my classmates just love and respect him for his creative teaching.

M: Do you think creativity can be leaned and practiced?

W: Definitely. Creativity, like any other qualities, can be trained.

Text 8

M: Hello, Ms. Lee?

W: Yes, speaking!

M: I’m just calling to remind you that you must check out by noon.

W: Oh my God. It’s already 11:30 a.m.

M: There is a $30 extra fee for late checkout.

W: Do you think you could give me a break? I had an awful night yesterday.

M: What happened, Ms. Lee?

W: I just lay in bed almost sleepless until 6 a.m.

M: I’m sorry to hear that.

W: So I was wondering if I could check out a little later.

M: I think I can make an exception this time. Do you think you will be able to check out by 2:00 p.m.?

W: No problem. Thank you very much.

Text 9

W: Good morning. Welcome to Standard Chartered Bank. How can I help you, sir?

M: I want to open a bank account.

W: Sure thing. What kind of account would you like to open a checking account or a savings account?

M: What’s the difference?

W: A checking account is designed for daily transactions. The money in the savings account is meant to stay in the account.

M: Actually, I plan to apply for a credit card. I’m going to travel abroad with my wife next month. That’s why I need an account.

W: Well, you need to fill out the application form first. How much of a credit limit are you looking for?

M: I would like a $5,000 spending limit.

W: OK. We will get you one of our gold cards with a $5,000 spending limit.

M: Thank you. That is twice the amount of my last card. Is there anything else?

W: You just need to deposit a minimum of $250 into your new checking amount

M: OK. I will do it now.

W: Now your account is opened and your credit card will be mailed to your address within 5 business days.

M: Thank you for your help.

Good morning, class. We’re all aware that we should take action to protect the environment, such as saving water, reducing pollution and planting more trees. There are some “green truths”. Are they all true? Let’s see. Firstly, paper shopping bags are better than plastic ones. Is it true? Actually, making a paper bag uses four times as much energy as making a plastic one and produces more greenhouse gases. So a reusable bag is the best choice. Secondly, when you turn off a device, it stops using power. Really? If you turn off the television or air conditioner, it goes into the standby mode. Devices in this mode still use power. So to make sure your appliance is in fact off, you should remove the plug from its power supply. Thirdly, it’s better to take a shower than a bath. True or not? In fact it depends on how long you spend in the shower and how large your bath is. If you spend more than 8 minutes in a shower, you’ll use as much as water in a bath — about 50 liters of water. So the key is to keep your shower times as short as possible. I hope all of you can pay attention to the things mentioned above in your daily life.
