(Text 1)

W: Hi, John, Would you like to go to a badminton game after school tomorrow?

M: I'd love to, Sandy, but I've already arranged to go to the cinema with Grace.

(Text 2)

M: I don't think I should wear a dark shirt for a wedding. It just isn't appropriate.

W: Well, the only clean shirts you have are the white one, the black one and the dark blue one.

M: So, there is only one choice.

(Text 3)

M: Sorry, Miss Green. I failed your subject again but I really tried my best.

W: No one is sure to succeed every time. Cheer up, young man. You will have more chances.

M: Thank you, Miss Green. I'll try harder next time.

(Text 4)

W: I don't know how you can eat so much yet never put on any weight, son. Your father's got the same luck. I can't take a bite without calculating how many calories I am taking.

M: But remember Aunt Louise, Mom? She ate a lot and never gained a pound.

(Text 5)

M: Don't you like the coat you just tried on?

W: Well, I like the color and fabric.

M: And it is really nice and reasonably priced.

W: Yes. I would have bought it right away if they had had it in my size.

(Text 6)

M: Good morning. How can I help you?

W: Hello, I need to get this dress cleaned. I spilled pasta sauce on it last night. It's silk, so I can't wash it at home. Is it ruined?

M: Oh, no, I can get that out for you. It will be ready tomorrow morning.

W: I'm going to a work event tonight and I need to wear it. Can you have it ready by this afternoon?

M: Sure, I can do that for you. Why not come back around 4:00 pm?

W: That's perfect. Thank you so much.

(Text 7)

W: Excuse me. I'd like to have the package and the letter posted.

M: Would you like to mail by air or by sea?

W: How long will it take to mail things to the US by air?

M: About 10 days. You can send it by express mail if you need it faster. It will only take three or four days.

W: Then, express mail for the package. It's urgent. The faster, the better. And the letter by registered mail.

M: OK. The package is 3 kilograms. That'll be £ 20 for postage.

W: Yes. And the letter?

M: Registered. That is £ 3. So give me £ 23.

W: Here you go.

(Text 8)

M: Hi, Gina! How was your trip to the States?

W: Very busy. Having a lot of meetings, I didn't have much time to see New York.

M: What a pity! Actually, I'll have a trip there too next week.

W: Do you? Then take my advice, do watch the "Health in the Air" program on the plane. It really works.

M: Oh, really?

W: Yes, I followed the directions in the program, and when I arrived in New York, I felt good and no jet lag at all.

M: Em, So, what did you do?

W: Well, I didn't drink any alcohol or coffee, but a lot of water and I did some of the exercises in the program.

M: How many passengers did the exercises?

W: Not many.

M: And how much alcohol did they drink?

W: A lot! It was more popular than mineral water.

M: So, basically, it's a choice. Mineral water and exercises, or alcohol and jet lag,

W: That's right!

(Text 9)

W: There's a place in Venezuela where lightning strikes about 200 days a year.

M: Are you serious?

W: Yep. Locals call it "the Never - Ending Storm of Catatumbo" because the area is near the Catatumbo River. Scientists found that most of the lightning strikes between April and November. NASA named the area "the Lightning Capital of the World".

M: Why does the area get so many storms?

W: The Andes Mountains are on one side of the river, and the Cabben Sea is on the other side. Cool mountain winds move into the valley and hit warm sea air, creating the perfect conditions for lightning.

M: Are the people there afraid of getting hit?

W: Most people stay inside at night, but they don't really worry about it. The chances of being struck by lightning are pretty slim. In the US, about one in every 12,000 people get hit in their lifetime.

M: Yeah, but we're talking about an area that gets struck by lightning about 50% of the time.

W: True. This article says that near the Catatumbo River, one in three people get struck every year.

M: Wow. That's really scary! I would never go outside if I lived there.

(Text 10)

Hello, everyone. My name is Alicia, and I live in the state of Guanajuato in central Mexico. Today, I'd like to tell something about my hometown and people here. Here in Guanajuato, music and dancing are a big part of life. There are a lot of festivals here, and many kinds of music. Many young people like rock or pop music but my favorite is traditional Mexican music, which is the kind of music my grandparents and great grandparents listened to. I don't know why but I'm just crazy about it.

I'm a folk dancer, and I love to perform at special events, which gives me chances to enjoy myself. To be a folk dancer, you have to love the culture and the music here. That's the most important thing, but we also need to work hard and practice a lot. We dance in groups, and every person has to know the steps. And we can't buy traditional folk dance dresses at the store, so we have to make our own. We wear traditional dresses that only come from this part of Mexico.

A Spring Outing

Spring is a good time for outing. Aiming to understand each other better and build up our bodies, our class had a spring outing last Saturday. As scheduled, we gathered together at 8:30 am at the gate of our school. We went to our destination by bus, laughing and singing all the way. Much to our delight, the trip involved mountain climbing as well as a picnic. Hardly had we reached the top of the mountain when we enjoyed an awesome view of the whole city. Exhausted as we were on the way back to school, we all regarded this outing as an unforgettable experience, for it not only made us get close to nature with fresh air and fantastic scenery, but also enhance the friendship between us students and promote our mutual cooperation.
