第四部分 写作

第一节

My Favorite Chinese Traditional Culture

My favorite Chinese traditional culture form is calligraphy. Calligraphy is a form of art that uses Chinese characters and ink to create beautiful writing with a unique style and grace.

The special thing about calligraphy is that it requires a lot of patience and skills to master. Each stroke must be precise and deliberate. The beauty of calligraphy lies in the balance of the strokes, the flow of the ink, and the overall composition.

I love calligraphy because it is not only beautiful to look at, but it also has a deep cultural significance.

第二节

So Lani decided to turn to the social media. She posted the story about how Reinicke had helped her and her mother survive the fire. Three days later, a netizen from Big Island of Hawaii responded that Reinicke was his neighbor, who worked for a car sales company. Lani managed to get Reinicke's telephone number. Lani contacted Reinicke without delay. It turned out that on the day of the fire, Reinicke was in Maui on business. When he saw Lani and her mother were in trouble, he chose to lend them a hand.

Lani told Reinicke that she and her mother would arrange a face-to-face meeting with him. A week later the three people gathered. "I wouldn't have made it without you," Sincerity said to Reinicke as they hugged. Reinicke said he had no hesitation when it came to helping save them. "There's no way morally I could just walk past that and just save myself. It's the rule in my head," he responded. Seeing Lani's next post about their meeting with Reinicke, netizens sang high praise for Reinicke.

M: Excuse me! Would you please give me a ride to get to the nearest hospital?

W: Get in please. But you see the traffic is moving slowly, so the subway may be faster.

M: Yeah. Please drop me off at the subway station.

Text 2

M: Have you heard the news that a truck knocked down a student on Peace Road?

W: Yes. The student should have stopped at the red light and obeyed the traffic rules.

Text 3

W: I went to a really cool museum with my class yesterday.

M: Really? You mean the Nature Museum?

W: No, it was the Science Museum, and there was a show of robots. We were supposed to go to the Art Museum, but that got canceled so we did this instead.

M: That's great.

Text 4

M: How was the weather for your hiking trip last weekend?

W: It was cloudy in the morning, and then it began to rain. But it cleared up after lunch.

Text 5

W: I've started to play the guitar.

M: Really? But I heard you've been interested in the piano.

W: Yes. But it costs too much to buy a piano while a guitar is not only cheap but also portable.

Text 6

W: Hey, Steve, how did your lessons go this morning?

M: Usual mix, really. History of the eighth grade was suffering. And they played a trick on me at the start of the lesson. They must have planned it for weeks!

W: Oh, too bad. I had them right after you for English and it was like they were in a different world. I couldn't get them to focus for the first ten minutes. They might have been too busy talking about you, planning their next practical joke...

M: Either that or they're already thinking about Christmas.

Text 7

W: You know ... you said you would do an evening class with me. Let's choose something interesting.

M: Photography for Amateurs. That looks interesting, but look at the price. $280 is too much for me. I wonder why it's so expensive. But, hey, at least it's cheaper than the Italian Wine Course. Look at that—$400.

W: I imagine you have to taste a lot of wine every week. That course doesn't start for a month anyway. How about Web Design for Beginners? It only runs for 6 weeks and it's pretty cheap. What do you think?

M: I spend too much time in front of a computer at work. I don't want to see a computer in the evening too.

W: How about Indian Cooking? Starts this week. A little bit expensive.

M: $190. I suppose that's for all the ingredients. You know how much I love Indian food.

W: Yep, me too. I'll call them tomorrow to see if there are still spaces available.

Text 8

M: Mom. The Enchanted Forest Faire will take place next year.

W: What is it about?

M: All the princesses, princes, nobles and the King and Queen of the Allison Woods Enchanted Forest lead you in experiencing a day of adventure, games, food and activities.

W: So it is an event full of characters from fairy tales?

M: Exactly. There are Superheroes and their friends too. I can't miss the opportunity to visit them. I must bring the camera for those magical photo opportunities.

W: How much does it cost?

M: The general admission is $9 per person. Would you and dad like to join?

W: The activities are fun, but wouldn't be proper for parents.

M: Not always, there will be a marketplace for your shopping pleasure! Listen, the poster says "while kids visit the different areas and see their favorite characters and enjoy hands-on activities with the characters, parents can stop by the food truck and pick up a bite to eat."

W: The organizers are really considerate. It seems that this program is fun for the entire family.

Text 9

W: Hi, Andy. Welcome to our program. You really have a dream job, don't you? Flying round the world all the time, visiting many famous fantastic theme parks such as in London and Beijing to enjoy a great feast for your eyes.

M: Well, yes, it's pretty exciting. But it's really tiring to conduct tours too, you know.

W: I bet. So, can you tell our audience what's the number one theme park in the world?

· 英语 ·

参考答案及解析

M: That all depends on what you're looking for. In terms of numbers, it has to be Magic Kingdom at Disney World in Florida, the most famous theme park. But the most popular park for people who like adventure rides is Cedar Point in Ohio, USA. It has the biggest number of roller coasters in one park, 17, and three water rides. There are lots of other attractions too. Last year they introduced 50 animatronic dinosaurs. You know, life-size models that move and look real.

W: Cool! Have they got anything lined up for this year?

M: Yeah, there's a new roller coaster called the Gatekeeper. Well, actually it's not a roller coaster. It's a wing coaster. It'll be the biggest in the world.

Text 10

M: Hello, listeners. It's time for six o'clock news. Yesterday some visitors to City Zoo had an unpleasant shock when they came face to face with an adult male tiger. The tiger was found by a mother and her two small children yesterday afternoon. The mother, Elaine Wilson, had gone down to the lake to take a photo when she saw the tiger, who was coming out of the water. She phoned the police and within five minutes they arrived with the zookeeper. The tiger was soon caught and luckily hadn't attacked anyone. Zookeeper Eddie Hewson said he was not sure how the tiger had escaped. None of the tigers at the zoo had ever escaped before. All the cage doors were locked so he thought the tiger was somehow able to jump over the fence. He also doesn't know exactly when the tiger escaped. The last time when it was seen was at 8:00 a. m. and it was found at 3:00 p. m. , so it was probably missing for at least five hours. The only thing he is sure about is that the tiger wasn't hungry because it'd eaten a large breakfast.
