

Answers:

听力

1-5 ACBCB 6-10 CAACC 11-15 ACBAA 16-20 BACBC

阅读

21-23ABA 24-27 DBCA 28-31 BCBC 32-35 DAAC 36-40 DBCGF

完型

41-45 CBABD 46-50 CDAAB 51-55 DCBDA 56-60 CBDAC

语法填空

61. popularity 62. challenging 63. to buy 64. began 65. typically

66. in 67. standing 68. an 69. which 70. are completed

短文改错

1. interested 改为 interesting

2. success 改为 successful

3. poor 后面加 is

4. because of 去掉 of

5. what 改为 which

6. were 改为 are

7. they 改为 you

8. other 改为 others

9. isn't 改为 doesn't

10. showing 改为 show

书面表达参考范文

Notice

Our school's English website will collect short videos and photographs of our campus for an online exhibition during the 80th anniversary of the school. The theme of the activity is discovering our beautiful campus.

Your works can focus on wonderful landscapes or unforgettable moments. And the English description of each work should be no less than 100 words. There are three first prizes, five second prizes and ten third prizes in this activity. Please submit your works to our website no later than May 30, 2023.

It's a great chance to display your talent. Seize the chance!

The School's English Website

听力材料

Text 1

W: Where do you have meals? Does your host provide them for you?

M: Oh, the host only provides dinner, but I can prepare simple breakfast. And I have free lunch at school.

Text 2

W: What did you think of the painting exhibition last week?

M: I didn't make it to the exhibition.

W: Sorry. I should ask Tom.

Text 3

M: I am absolutely certain I'm going to fail my English test.

W: Why are you so sure? Your vocabulary and reading comprehension are pretty good.

M: But it's impossible for me to improve my listening level within a week.

Text 4

W: You look kind of unhappy. Do you want to talk about anything?

M: It seems like I can't write a good paper. Just look at the corrections all over the pages.

Text 5

M: Do you know James? He is in your class.

W: Certainly. In fact he was the first person I got to know in my class. I still remember the look on his face when he arrived late on the first day of school.

Text 6

W: I'm so sad. I got a ticket this morning.

M: Did you drive over the speed limit?

W: No. I was driving slowly when a policeman suddenly appeared. He told me that I had stopped on the double yellow line while I was waiting for the light.

M: Why did you do that? You're not a new driver.

W: I went to the hospital to visit my mother in a hurry, so I didn't notice it.

M: Then what did you do?

W: I said sorry immediately, but he still wrote me a ticket. That means I've lost 100 yuan.

Text 7

W: The service is really slow here. I've been trying to get the waiter's attention for the last ten minutes.

M: I hope he will take our order soon. Otherwise I'll be late for my class at two o'clock.

W: Me, too. I have a class at 2 as well.

M: I've noticed you have a math book. Do you like the summer school here?

W: It's pretty good. I think I've learned a lot.

M: Yeah, I only wish the class were a little smaller, but I like my teachers a lot. They are very kind and patient.

W: I see. By the way, I am from Boston. Where are you from?

M: I'm from Washington D. C. I'm only staying here for three more weeks. Then I'll go to Columbia University in New York.

W: Oh, here comes the waiter. It seems we are going to get served after all.

Text 8

W: Wow, look at the line! We're lucky we got here an hour earlier. Or else we will definitely have had problems getting tickets.

M: I learned my lesson the last time I went to a new movie. I didn't arrive early enough and ended up with a terrible seat in the front row.

W: Yeah. I hate sitting in the first row.

M: By the way, it was really nice of you to get this ticket for me. Why don't I show you a bit of appreciation by getting you a drink?

W: That would be great. Let me see. I'll take a large cola. Thanks.

M: OK. I'll be back soon. Oh, I almost forgot. I'd better hold on to my ticket in case you get in before I get back. If that happens, just save me a seat and I'll meet you inside.

W: OK.

Text 9

W: You're already back from New York, John. What was your trip like?

M: It was just great.

W: Wasn't it too crowded and busy?

M: There were many people everywhere even at night. Everyone seemed to be rushing about everywhere.

W: Where did you go in New York?

M: We visited the Statue of Liberty, the South Street Seaport Museum and Washington Square.

W: Did you go up to the top of the Empire State Building?

M: We wanted to, but we ran out of time and had to choose between Washington Square and the Empire State Building. We ended up agreeing on Washington Square.

W: Which place did you like best?

M: Everything was wonderful, but my favorite stop was the museum.

W: It sounds like you really had a wonderful trip. I wish I could go.

Text 10

On the financial front, the results have been very pleasing. Sales have increased by 14%, costs have dropped by 3% and profits are up by 16%. So the company as a whole has performed well, especially in America and Japan, our largest export markets. The French consumer market has been very competitive and will continue to be so. Our results in this market have been rather disappointing — just 1% up compared with last year.

Right, let's move on to personnel. Our policy of personnel development through training and promotion opportunities has continued to be a great success. We have actually employed 72 new staff while 20 have retired. The training department has expanded and moved into new areas.

Finally, technology. I thought you would be interested to have an update since this is vital for our further growth. Over the last year, our Research Department has tested a new engine.

Results so far have looked great. We have also put much money in a European technology program which links industry with the universities.

Right, those are the three main areas — finance, personnel and technology. Are there any questions, before I go on?

