Dear David,

Knowing that you are interested in Chinese cuisine, I would like to invite you to experience the “Chinese Food Festival” in our city and taste the traditional delicacies here.

The activity will be held from 8:00 am to 4:00 pm on April 23 in the Food Street of our city. There will be lots of famous local food then, and you can have a taste of what you like. What’s more, we have invited some top chefs to demonstrate how to make various kinds of traditional food, so you will get a chance to learn some cooking skills as well.

I believe this will definitely be a unique experience for you. Looking forward to seeing you next week.

Yours,

Li Hua

But before she could go on, the sound of notes being played cut her off. She watched the students as they held up their instruments and played a beautiful tune for her. Wonderful notes filled the classroom, and she recognized the song immediately. It was one of Paul McCartney’s most famous songs, also her favorite. Mrs. Harris understood immediately that her students knew what had happened to her. They were giving her a gift she would never forget. Tears filled her eyes as they finished the song, and she had to take a seat to take it all in. (84 words)

Her students approached her one by one. They offered their comfort, and the girls hugged her tightly. She could only thank them for their kindness as tears flowed down her face. After a few minutes, she wiped her tears. “OK. Let’s get back to work!” she said, her voice still emotional. But her words made everyone laugh. They knew their strict teacher was back, and it made them happy. As for Mrs. Harris, she further realized that music was also the other love of her life, and teaching was her life’s purpose. Text 1

M: I thought there is a special sale on carpet cleaners this week.

W: That sale was over yesterday. We have notebooks and cups on sale this week.

Text 2

M: I have tried very hard to find a solution to the problem, but it was useless.

W: Why not consult with Frank? You see, two heads are better than one.

Text 3

W: Paul, it’s not the money. The money is not a problem. It’s just that ...

M: Mom, you know if I have the chance to study abroad for one year, it will help me get a good job in the future.

Text 4

W: Tony said he could fix my bicycle, but I really doubt it.

M: Don’t worry. He’s very good at this sort of thing.

Text 5

W: It shouldn’t take long to clear up after the party if we all volunteer to help.

M: That’s right. Many hands make light work.

Text 6

W: Hello, Rick. I’ve come to say goodbye to you.

M: Are you going back to your country Canada?

W: No. I’ll travel in Europe with my parents as this term is over. I want to go to France. But my parents prefer Germany. We’ll travel for two months.

M: Wow, the whole summer vacation! Wish you an enjoyable holiday.

Text 7

W: Hi, Louis. This is Hebe.

M: Hi, Hebe. What’s up?

W: Do you have any plans on Saturday night?

M: Yes. My cousin will fly to see me that night. I am going to pick him up.

W: Oh, it's my birthday that day. I'm having dinner with Daniel and we plan to make a party.

M: I'm really sorry. I won't be able to make it.

Text 8

M: What should we buy for the camp, Mary?

W: Let's buy some chicken wings. I can cook the chicken wings at the camp.

M: I only know how to fry eggs. So let's buy eggs and ham too.

W: We also need some bread. And what kind of fruit do you like?

M: Apples and bananas.

W: OK, you go to pick them. I'd like to get some peaches. What about drinks?

M: Some soft drinks and juice.

W: I prefer milk.

M: Could you do fruit salad for us?

W: Of course.

Text 9

M: Hey, Molly. What are you doing here?

W: Can't you see that I'm running?

M: Of course, I see. But I never saw you in the park at 6 o'clock in the morning. You never exercised, did you?

W: Well, I've decided to make a change.

M: Why?

W: I was reading books at home yesterday. When I got up from the bed to get something to drink, I felt trouble in breathing. Although the discomfort went away soon, I was scared, so I went to the doctor immediately.

M: Was there anything wrong?

W: He said I would die of heart disease if I kept the former lifestyle.

M: So what was the doctor's advice?

W: Have a balanced diet and take more exercise. Thus, I have to say goodbye to my favorite fried chips and Coke, but what annoys me most is that I have to leave my warm bed at such an early time while others are still having dreams.

Text 10

M: Hello! I'm Harvard Smith. As the editor of The Voice, I'd like to introduce you to our school daily newspaper. We need volunteers to help us with our newspaper. Experience isn't absolutely necessary. But we need people with writing and typing skills. Since The Voice comes out five days a week, we need excellent students who know how to plan their time well. Good grades are necessary. We can pay you depending on your work. But don't expect to get rich. This isn't something you do for the money. Mostly it's just for fun. Anyone who is interested in this job should speak to me immediately after this meeting. Be prepared to start right now. The first issue goes to press tomorrow.
