One possible version:

Dear Judy,

I'm writing to express my gratitude for your warm hospitality.

Just in the past summer vacation, I visited your hometown. As a local resident and my close friend, not only did you show me around the scenic spots, but also treated me to various foods, which contributed to my unique and unforgettable journey. What's more, exposed to the cultural festival, I gained knowledge about the local culture. How amazing!

Words fail me when I try to show how grateful I am. Thank you so much! Best wishes!

Yours
Li Hua

续写 One possible version:

Stuart said he took the money and went to the city. He started a small business and wanted to achieve big success quickly. Thus he could come back to family as a wealthy businessman. At first, everything went smoothly, but before long he failed in his business and lost all his money. Peter took Stuart to his room and said, "You might have left us, but we never forgot you. Your mom regularly changed the bed sheets and curtains like we did when you were here. I knew you would come back to us one day."

Overwhelmed by their love, Stuart was moved to tears. From that day on, Stuart dedicated his time and energy to the farm and worked hard to prove himself worthy of his family's love. He learned new farming techniques and took every little step to improve their income. Stuart realized that family was more important than money and success and that there would be no success without the love or support of family.

Text 1

M: Excuse me, but I think you gave me the wrong change. I gave you $100. You should have given me $6, but you only gave me $5. (1)

W: Oh, I'm sorry. Here is the money.

Text 2

M: The person I admire most is my father..

W: Sorry, but may I interrupt you for a second? Why do you choose this topic instead of the topic of the pet business? (2)

M: Because I think I can talk about it for two minutes.(2)

Text 3

M: Oh, no. The car doesn't work. I forgot to replace the batteries.

W: Shall I get out and push it?(3)

M: I hate to ask you, but yes ... No, wait a minute. You sit in the driving seat and I'll do it.(3)

Text 4

W: Hello, Frank. We plan to watch the basketball match at home on Sunday afternoon with some friends. Would you like to join us?

M: Sorry, I don't like watching basketball matches on TV. I'd rather play basketball than watch it. It's more exciting.(4)

Text 5

W: Eric didn't sunbathe during the whole holiday. He said he had forgotten to take his swimwear, but it was just an excuse.

M: What was the real reason?

W: He's a little overweight, and he didn't want anyone to see his spare tyre!(5)

Text 6

M: Hey, Jessica. It will be Father's Day soon. What should we get for our dad? (6)

W: Well, we should give him a present. What about a nice jacket?

M: I don't think that's a good idea. How about having a surprise party for him?

W: Well, I don't like it very much, but we can invite some of our friends and their parents to have a gathering at our home. Oh, how about making a special book called All about Our Dad? We can write some interesting or moving stories between us. (7)

M: Sounds great!(7)

Text 7

M: Welcome, madam! Do you come here to meet your friends?

W: Actually, I'm here for a business talk, but I can't find the person I'm meeting.(8)

M: Maybe I can help you.

W: That would be great! I know that the man is here with his wife.(9)

M: We have three couples. One couple of them are celebrating the man's birthday. Another couple are sitting there, with the man dressed in a suit and tie.

W: I called him earlier, and he said he wears a T-shirt and jeans. (9) At that time, they were ordering coffee. (10)

M: OK. I know which person you're looking for. Right this way.

Text 8

M: Excuse me. Would you mind answering some questions for a survey? (11)

W: What kind of survey?

M: It's about protecting the environment. (13) It's for my English class. (11) We need to ask three people these questions.

W: About protecting the environment, huh? Sounds interesting. (12) Ok, sure.

M: Here's the first question: Do you usually recycle bottles or cans? (13)

W: Hmm, that's a hard one. I guess it depends. Sometimes they are too dirty. It usually takes me a lot of time to wash them.

M: OK. Here's the second question: Have you ever planted trees? (13)

W: Oh, I don't like planting trees. I prefer to plant flowers.

Text 9

M: Well, I was wondering if we could do something together this week.

W: Great! That's what I have been looking forward to.

M: Well, then are you free this

W: You mean the day after tomorrow? That would be great. (14) What do you have in mind?

M: Well, we could go fishing, go sailing or go hiking, enjoying the great outdoors of some kind. I think it would be more interesting to go sailing this season. (15) We can have a great time on the Kornati Islands.

W: Oh, that's good. I can hardly wait. (16)

Text 10

Jacob Heil, a local college student, will climb Mount Kilimanjaro in Tanzania, to honor his father. His father was diagnosed with cancer in 2001 and died just over a year ago. His father was a huge advocate of raising people's awareness of the disease. Jacob had always been super close to him. Therefore, he hopes he can obey his father's will. His goal is to raise people's awareness of cancer by climbing the highest mountains on each continent. (17)

About 30,000 people a year attempt to climb Mount Kilimanjaro. For Jacob, his biggest worry is the altitude of the mountain. (18) To achieve his goal, he has been getting a lot of training by running. (19) Although there are many unknown challenges, Jacob believes he will make it. Jacob always remembers his dad's favorite quote, "Never give up." He also does it as his father said. Jacob will try his best to support patients and families undergoing cancer treatments.
