M: Who's that woman in a red dress next to Jessica?

W: That's her friend Holly. Didn't you meet her at last picnic?

M: I couldn't make it to the picnic because of my sister Maria.

(Text 2)

M: Excuse me. Could you tell me where the shopping mall is?

W: Yes, it's that way. Go two blocks to Beckham Street, then turn left. It's in the second building, across from the library.

(Text 3)

M: Hey! That truck hit a bus!

W: That's bad! Is anyone hurt?

M: Nobody knows that yet... I should call 911... "Hello? I'd like to report an accident near the library on Henry Lane."

(Text 4)

M: How did your geography test go?

W: It went really well. I can't thank you enough for helping me with it!

M: My pleasure. Do you feel like preparing for the math exam for next week?

(Text 5)

M: What are you looking at on your phone?

W: Tomorrow's weather. It's going to be fantastic. Hardly any wind. Going to be probably the most beautiful day so far this year.

M: Can't fly a kite, though.

(Text 6)

W: Hey, this is Brain from AJP News. What are you doing?

M: I'm reading an article about the importance of tree planting.

W: What do you think of it?

M: Trees are our best friends. We need to plant a lot of trees because only trees can help us to survive. They not only provide us with fresh air but also fruits and other things. Trees are a must for rain. Without rain, our farmers can't grow plants.

W: You're right.

(Text 7)

W: What outdoor activity do you take part in?

M: I do many, for example, playing volleyball and swimming, but my favorite one is jogging. Usually I go jogging in the park near my place.

W: Who do you do outdoor activities with?

M: I usually go jogging with my family, especially my dad. We usually jog together every morning, except on rainy days.

W: How do you feel after activities? Do you feel tired?

M: Not at all. Actually I feel really relaxed and I'm also in high spirits.

W: What benefits can you get from outdoor activities?

M: It's a good method to work out. Jogging is also a good way for me to make me energetic for a long day working.

(Text 8)

W: How many popular festivals are there in your country?

M: There are many: New Year's Day, Martin Luther King Day, Valentine's Day, St. Patrick Day, Easter, etc.

W: What is the most important festival in your country?

M: I believe New Year's Day is the most important since it's a chance for family to get together, welcoming the new year.

W: When and how is the festival celebrated?

M: It's celebrated on January 1st. Before New Year's Day, people go shopping for food and drinks, repair or decorate their houses. On New Year's Eve, people have a party with traditional food and drinks. After that, they may visit friends or relatives, go to the movies or watch sports.

W: What's special about that festival?

M: People believe that the things they do on the first day will bring good luck to them during the whole year.

(Text 9)

M: Hello. I'm from the Yangtze Evening News. You are famous for your "repair shows" and have attracted millions of fans. But how did you learn to repair so many different machines all by yourself?

W: I grew up in a small mountain village in Zhaotong, Yunnan. The village is often hit by power cuts. Many people keep a machine in their homes so that they can turn to it whenever the power is out. As the machine works, the power comes back and the dark rooms are bright again. I developed a strong interest in this "magical machine" from an early age, which led me to finally study engineering in college.

M: How did you come up with the idea to share your repair work on the Internet?

W: One day, I came across a popular short video about my hometown. Then I decided to follow suit.

M: Did your "repair shows" go smoothly?

W: Not really at first, but I didn't quit. I went on to repair various types of equipment for my villagers and continued to shoot videos while fixing different machines.

M: What's your dream for the future?

W: I love my hometown. By helping the villagers out and trying to make my village a fantastic place, I have found a better stage to use my skills.

(Text 10)

M: You may use your pocket money to get a mobile phone, a video game or some books. However, you may feel it shameful when you buy something you want but don't really need. The situation may not appear if you manage your money in a right way, which means spending money as much as you can on things you need but less money on something you don't need. It's not about controlling yourself. It's about realizing what you really need and spending your money on the things you love without feeling shameful.

The most important thing to stop useless spending is to ask yourself questions like "Where is my money going? What do I need to spend my money on? How much do I want to save?"

Answering these questions can help you feel relaxed. At the same time, you can make sure what you don't care about and live according to what's important to you. That makes it much easier to control your spending in areas that don't matter as much.

When you've thought about what you really value, you'll stop feeling worried, questioned or shameful about how you spend your money.

第一节

One possible version:

In order to enhance students' interest in learning English, our school held a classic English movie viewing activity in the school hall last Saturday.

The activity started at 8:00 am and continued until 5:30 pm, with a two-hour break at noon. Three classic movies were shown, including Forrest Gump, The Sound of Music and Brave Heart.

We students enjoyed the wonderful movies very much, which not only increased our understanding of English culture, but also gave us a moment of relaxation in our busy study life.

第二节

One possible version:

It turned out that Serena was absolutely right. During the training I was required to fight with the boys and I was repeatedly beaten by them. I started to learn what “boxing is only for boys” exactly meant. But I made up my mind to stick to my choice. Every day after school, I dashed to the boxing gym, occupying myself with the intense training. And my confidence grew as the competition approached.

Finally, the big day came. Extremely nervous though, I stepped into the boxing ring. Drawing on my ballet background, I surprised other candidates and the audience with my fast and graceful movements. To my delight, I found my name at the top of the list when the result was posted. Filled with joy, I couldn't wait to share the news with Serena, who encouraged me to tell my parents my decision to carve my own path. “I'm sure you will convince them that boxing is indeed a sport for everyone,” she assured me.
