Possible version:

With the approaching of National Disaster Prevention and Mitigation Day, our school carried out a series of events. And I would like to share some details.

Awareness events include professional seminars introducing theoretical knowledge and workshops teaching survival skills in time of emergency. I'm most impressed by an evacuation drill where we learned how to evacuate in order and protect ourselves when stuck in an earthquake.

The events are beneficial. They not only raise our awareness of self-protection but also prepare us better for long-term disaster prevention and recovery.

Text 1

M: It's 7:30. We've got 2 hours left before the departure. We might be late.

W: Don't worry, honey. The cab has already arrived. It will only take us 30 minutes to get to the airport. Let's go.

Text 2

W: Jack is not here right now. He is playing basketball with his friends in the park. Can I take a message?

M: Oh, yes. I'm calling to see if he can come to my party this Saturday.

W: Okay, I will tell him when he comes back.

Text 3

W: Can you please turn into Hill Road there?

M: But my GPS says this route is shorter, and it will only take 15 minutes.

W: I' m not in a hurry. I' d like to avoid the road construction near the subway station.

Text 4

M: Jessie, Red Tigers are going to play against Detroit Lions tomorrow evening. I' ve already booked two tickets. Would you like to go with me?

W: Uh-uh ... You know I' m not a big fan of American football. Moreover, my essay is due the day after tomorrow. (4) Why don' t you invite Harry to go with you?

Text 5 (第5题为推断题)

W: Oh, the weather application on my phone says today is a smoggy day. We have to stay home and keep the windows closed. What a day!

M: It' s time for us to protect the environment. Our life is greatly affected by the pollution.

W: In fact, I' m longing for a walk in the park. But now I have no choice but to exercise indoors.

Text 6

M: I' m going to move into a new apartment this Saturday. And I decided to get some new household appliances on Sunday. (6) Do you have any recommendations?

W: I went to an appliance store with my mom last week, which is not too far from my house. It has a wide range of brands.

M: What did you buy then?

W: We bought a refrigerator. It was a bit expensive. The old one was out of order. You know, I really can' t live without one because I have to keep the food cold or frozen. (7) We also bought a washer-dryer to clean and dry our clothes.

M: I usually wash my clothes by hand, but having a washing machine can make life easier.

Text 7

W: Are you spending the summer in Xiamen with your family as before?

M: I' m afraid not. This summer, I' m going to travel through the cities in Western Europe, such as Brussels, Amsterdam and Cologne, with a friend.

W: Who' s that with you? (9)

M: His name is Brian. I met him when I worked for a law firm last summer. And we were in the same department. (9)

W: How do you get around in Western Europe?

M: Well, we are going to take the train from city to city. I' m most excited about going to the Netherlands, a first for me.

W: Sounds amazing. Is your family disappointed that you won' t join them?

M: A little bit. But they think it' s a good idea for me to travel abroad while I' m still young. After I get my law degree, I' ll start working.

It may be hard to find opportunities to travel then. (10)

W: Good point. Well, I look forward to hearing about your trip when you return to Shanghai. (8)

Text 8

W: Michael, what' s taking you so long? The library is closing in five minutes. We' ve got to go or we have to spend the night here.

M: Sorry, I' ve been seeking some advice, but I didn' t find any solution to my problem.

W: So you' re searching for advice on the Internet? Is it related to study?(11)

M: Er ... It' s something personal.

W: Believe it or not, I never trust the advice on the Internet if it' s about my private matter. The answers there are too general. And some people are always drawing a perfect picture of their lives, making me start doubting my decisions even more. (12)

M: So who do you turn to? Your parents?

W: Sometimes yes. If the topic is sensitive, it must be someone who I trust completely. My dad is always my first choice. I know he will never tell my secrets to anyone else, but my mom will.

M: How about your cousin? I know you' re very close.

W: I really trust her, but we' re like-minded girls. Her suggestions will be no different from mine.

Text 9 (第 16 题为主旨大意题)

W: Hey, Harrison. I' m thinking of joining a boxing club this summer. Would you like to join me? George and Elaine signed up for a boxing course one week ago.

M: Well, I' m more of a team player. So I' m more interested in football, basketball, and so forth. (14) Why boxing? Don' t you think it' s a bit dangerous?

W: Not at all. Competitors always wear protective equipment. I watched a match yesterday. It was so exciting. And there was a large audience supporting their favorite athletes.

M: I know that it' s very popular around the world. And those players make big money, no matter whether they win or not.

W: It' s too early for me to think about the money yet, but I really want to try. I will practice over the summer. After that, I will decide whether to continue or stop. At least I can learn to protect myself. (15)

M: Good luck. How long do you think you need to practice before your first match?

W: About a month.

M: Okay. Don' t forget to invite me to it.

Hello, everyone! I'm Linda, your new community president. Please prepare your pens and notebooks so that you can pass the information on to your neighbors. Now let's begin.

Some gardening and the repair work will be done in our community. The grass will be cut; the trees will be shaped; the road surface at the north entrance will be changed. The work will last for 4 days, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. daily. (18) Here are some instructions on what you should do and should not do. For the first two days, to avoid the damage from grass mowing, don't park your cars near the green space. On the third day, stay away from the trees. That's because the workers will cut the dry branches and use some chemicals to get rid of insects. (19) On the fourth day, the road at the north gate will be repaired, so those who drive, please, use the south gate for entering and leaving the community. The cost of the work will be divided among all of you according to the size of the flat.

Sorry for any inconvenience. If you have any further questions, please contact Mr. Johansen, our community head secretary.
