My best friend

A friend is someone to whom we can talk about everything. Without friends, our life would be dull and incomplete.

My best friend is Li Hua. It is since we were kindergarten kids that we have been best friends. Now she, a girl with determination, is a senior student like me who is preparing for university entrance examination. Although suffering academic defeat, she never abandons her goal to be a fashion designer. Through her constant efforts, she gets closer to her dream.

We become best friends for many reasons. First of all, we have a lot in common in many aspects, sharing the same interest and hobbies. Besides, trust is the base on which our friendship is built. Inevitably, best friends can sometimes disagree, but whenever quarrel arises, we both firmly believe that our friendship deserves regaining and we make up again. Above all, we can learn and benefit a lot from each other and bring out the best.

I really hope our friendship will last as long as possible.
