As is known by us, our government is trying to make our city the National Civilized City at present. We hope we can also do our best to help realize this goal.

First of all, we should mind our words and deeds and become civilized citizens. Always remember to say "Please" and "Thanks" and don't talk and laugh loudly in public. Seen people in trouble, we might as well ~~to~~ lend them a helping hand. In addition, be civilized pedestrians. We must observe traffic rules and never cross the streets before the traffic lights are red. At the same time, keeping our environment cleanly is also advisable, it to or Seeing when / while clean which means we shouldn't litter or spit in public places. Only by starting with the little things around us [^] can /will we make a great difference to our city image.

Let's take $\frac{\textit{measure}}{\textit{measures}}$ now and make joint efforts to make our city more civilized.

第二节 书面表达 (满分 25 分)

Looking good, feeling good

When it comes to the question which is more important, looking good or feeling good, my answer is that feeling good outweighs looking good.

Feeling good means having good physical and mental health, being happy, and having a positive outlook on life. For teenagers, For one thing, it can improve our confidence and self-esteem, and we can radiate positivity and happiness to those around us. For another thing, it is obvious that the combination of ambition and faith serves as another source of beauty.

In conclusion, while looking good matters, feeling good should always be our top choice. Only by pursuing feeling good rather than looking good can a teenager grasp the true meaning of beauty.

M: I can't believe the coach actually let you join the team. I've never heard of a girl playing football with boys.

W: It's about time. Everyone is so worried I'll get hurt, but I earned this spot. Plus, I'm already the fastest runner they have. (1)

Text 2

W: I'd like to thank my new student council vice president, Jim, for all his help. Together, we have redesigned a whole new lunch menu and started the school store.

M: Thanks, Janet. After seeing you start twelve new clubs last year, I was inspired to join the council. (2)

Text 3

M: I'm going on holiday next month and my passport is out of date. I heard it can take 3 weeks to get a new one.

W: I lost mine and I had a replacement in 2 weeks, (3) but you can pay extra to get it done in 7 days.

Text 4

W: In Brazil they have a festival that the whole country participates in. It's called "Carnival". A lot of world travelers attend and everyone wears fancy masks.

M: If I was going to travel all the way there it would be to see what kind of meals they would serve. (4)

Text 5

W: What topic should I add to my speech? I am already going to talk about the football team's great teamwork this year. I also have a section thanking the coaches for their hard work.

M: Why not thank the fans for coming to all the games? (5)

Text 6

W: Did you hear that the new classrooms will be opening this month? (6) Finally, we'll have more space for our classes. I was getting so tired of being so tightly packed in here. There are too many of us.

M: Yes, we were told by the headmaster on Monday. How did you hear about it? (6)

W: I heard it from Mrs. Crane in her math class on Wednesday. (6)

M: Well, the headmaster is supposed to make an official announcement about it at the end of this week. (7) That's when we will learn which classes will be transferred there.

Text 7

M: How are you never anxious speaking in front of all those people? (8)

W: I'm lucky to be in this position, (8) so of course I will do my best at it. I just practice all the time. This way in a few years I'll be able to speak in front of thousands of people.

M: Is it because you want to get thousands of fans cheering back at you?

W: No. I don't care about that. I want to share my beliefs with people who think differently and change their minds. (9)

M: It sounds like you want to become President of the United States. That's a tough job, you know? You'd be busy and traveling all the time.

W: No, I just want to be an example for people who have good ideas, but don't speak up. (10)

Text 8

W: Good morning. I am here to talk to you about your boat. I saw the "For Sale" advertisement on it last month and wanted to come ask you more about it. (11) I didn't see it outside, but I thought I should ask. Is it still available?

M: Yes. I had it moved into my backyard because of that flood we had. I was afraid it would float away! Do you live around here? (13) Most people who are interested in the boat saw my advertisement in the newspaper or on the Internet.

W: I moved into the neighborhood last year with my family. (13) My job sent me and some co-workers here to expand our company. I've never lived near the water before so I figured I would buy a boat. (12)

M: Excuse me. I have some questions about this advertisement I received in the mail. (14) I didn't want to miss out on the great deals so I had to come in today.

W: Sure. What can I help you with?

M: Well, Firstly, I wanted to know where the sale is going to be. (14) I actually don't live around here anymore, so I want to know if it is happening in all of your stores, or just this one.

W: It's happening in most of our stores. Most of the items on that advertisement are right up those stairs to your left. If you can't find a certain item here you can check the other participating stores as well.

M: Do the other stores carry the colors and brushes listed?

W: The only thing that the other stores wouldn't carry would be the upright frame for someone to paint a picture on. (15) We are the only store that sells those in this area. Also, just to let you know, this frame is on back order(延期交货). We sold out them last week. It is not available for the sale this week, but you can still purchase it.

W: It will be delivered the week after next. (16) The last customer said that it took about sixteen days to arrive. We can send it to the nearest store, or your home.

Text 10

My favorite interviewer of all time is named Jon Stewart. He began his career by telling jokes on stage, (17) and then he got a job hosting a news show called The Daily Show in 1999. (19) For many years, he would mix jokes with world news stories. Usually, he would have someone famous like a film star or a government official on at the end of the show. Jon would ask them questions about what they did, but also the important topics he spoke about on the show. He found it was a way for the viewers to connect better with the topics he spoke about because even though he made jokes, the topics were very serious. Though he became famous and helped spread important news to many people, Jon was unfulfilled. He realized that famous people and government officials were not the people he needed to give a voice to. After hosting The Daily Show for sixteen years, Jon decided to retire in 2015. He took a year off to enjoy himself, and then quickly jumped back into interviewing in 2016. Since then, Jon has fought for the men and women who are ignored in America. (18) One of the most important things he has done was get new laws passed that help pay the health bills of the firefighters and police — heroes who saved people during national tragedies. (20)
