第一节 应用文写作（满分 15 分）

Dear students,

With many people being infected with novel coronavirus, we'd like to make some constructive suggestions to help you spend a meaningful winter holiday.

To begin with, confronted with the serious condition, we students had better have personal protection in public and stay at home to have enough rest if possible. In addition, so precious is the time that we can't afford to waste it as senior students. It is advisable that we should keep a balance between relaxation and study.

Hopefully, the advice will of benefit to you.

Students' Union

第二节 读后续写（满分 25 分）

One possible version:

Paragraph 1:

"Stay there!" I ordered, and then returned to my room. However, my son's laughter came not much later again, and I couldn't focus on my work. I knew my son wasn't studying, either. Should I follow the rule? After much thinking, I walked into my son's room with a serious look and reminded him of the previous rule that he could only play with Rosie after finishing schoolwork. He lowered his head in tears and remained silent. Without hesitation, I brought Rosie out of his room.

Paragraph 2:

Once I put Rosie into the bathroom and closed the door, she started to miaow loudly. Then my son suddenly burst into crying, which made me heartbroken. I hurried to his room, wrapped my arms around his tiny body and offered to read him a story. To my relief, his cry gradually turned into laughing. Then I explained to him why I did that with patience. He nodded understandingly and agreed to continue his schoolwork, eyes twinkling with joy. Since then, he has adapted to the new rule and formed a good learning habit.
