写作第一节(15分)

Dear Kitty,

It's really amazing that you know this buzzword!

Literally meaning "back wave", the word refers to the younger generation. It originated with a post on a Chinese video sharing platform in 2020. In the video, actor He Bing, a representative of older generations, expressed his recognition and appreciation of the qualities of the young people today. It sparked a heated discussion among the youth, and the word has since gone viral. As one of a "back wave", I'm determined to work hard and shoulder the responsibility of realizing the Chinese Dream of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation.

Hope you can be satisfied with my explanation.

Yours,

Li Hua

写作第二节 (25 分)

Paragraph 1

One day, 3, 000 miles away, Wade was on a duck hunt when suddenly something in the bush caught his eye. Curious, he approached to find a silver balloon, with a piece of paper at the end of the string, wrapped in plastic. Taking it home, Wade read the touching lines to his wife Donna. She was deeply moved. With tears in her eyes, Donna decided to help Desiree. The couple went to buy a birthday card and a book of The Little Mermaid, and then she began to write a letter to Desiree.

Paragraph 2:

高三年级下学期三调考试答案

第

Desiree's fifth birthday came and later on the afternoon, a package arrived. Looking at the unfamiliar return address, Desiree's mother was confused. Suddenly an idea struck her: the balloon! She opened the parcel and found a card with "For a Dear Daughter". Her heart raced. She rushed to Desiree's room and showed her the letter. "It's from Daddy!" Desiree jumped with joy, asking her mother to read it for her. "Happy birthday, my little angel!" Her mother began. A big tear began to trickle down Desiree's cheeks.

听力文本:

(Text 1)

M: Where are you, Amy?

W: At home, lying down. Not on my bed, in the living room. Mum's here, making lunch in the kitchen.

(Text 2)

W: I'm thirsty after that race.

M: This green tea is really good. I bought it over there in the cafe.

W: Is there orange juice?

M: I don't think so, but they've got hot chocolate if you prefer that.

(Text 3)

W: James, I have to put all of these boxes into the car. Any chance you could help me?

M: Can you give me a minute? I just need to make a quick phone call.

(Text 4)

W: What's on the menu in the cafeteria today? I didn't bring my lunch with me.

M: I have no idea. Isn't it posted on the board outside the meeting room?

(Text 5)

W: Jeffery Gibson's new film is on until this weekend. Would you like to go with me this Thursday night?

M: I'd love to, but I can't make it this Thursday. What about this Saturday?

W: That's OK.

(Text 6)

W: Hello, this is Sarah speaking.

M: This is Hilton Clinic. I'm calling to make sure that your checkup is at 10:00 on Thursday, July the 16th. Is that right?

W: Right. But I'll be on a business trip that day. Could you reschedule it for either July 20th or 21st?

I'd like to see Dr. Helen.

M: Hold on please. Dr. Helen isn't available on the 21st, <sup>⑦</sup>but I can put you in a time with her for 10 a.m. on the 20th. How does that sound?

W: <sup>⑧</sup>Good.

(Text 7)

W: I'm thinking of going to Florence, a city in central Italy, for my next vacation. Didn't you go there last year, Peter?

M: Yes, I did. It's pretty crowded wherever you go, but <sup>⑨</sup>you'll be able to figure out why people are so crazy about the place especially when you taste their food!

W: I'm a little worried. I don't speak their language.

M: Don't worry about the language because there are plenty of people who speak more than one language. <sup>⑩</sup>However, I think you'd better hurry to find a place to stay. It can be very tough to find a hotel with your big suitcases.

(Text 8)

W: Brian, have you heard that <sup>⑪</sup>Mr. Giddings will be awarded the prize for Best Car Design at the Hyatt Hotel next week?

M: Yes, but I thought either Mr. Zarba or Ms. Miller would win. I feel they are more talented than Mr. Giddings.

W: <sup>⑫</sup>They are excellent designers, too. The competition must have been fierce. Will the winner receive a lot of money?

M: Maybe, I don't know. By the way, do you know where the Hyatt Hotel is?

W: <sup>⑬</sup>It's right across from the Bellagio Department Store on Granville Avenue, on the left side of a bank. The hotel just opened a week ago. I've heard they provide excellent food and service. Are you going to attend the ceremony?

M: Right.

W: Then why don't we go together?

M: Good idea.

(Text 9)

M: Today I'm talking to Marta Stanston, who runs her own "mobile restaurant". Marta, how did you get into the restaurant business?

W: Well, I learnt to cook at college. I always wanted to open my own restaurant — but had no money. So I got a job as a chef. ⑤ I had all sorts of ideas for new dishes, which the staff thought would sell, but the boss wasn't interested. That's when a friend told me about the "mobile restaurant" idea. It sounded great.

M: Tell us about it.

W: Well, it works like this: you decide on a menu — obviously you have to be able to cook — then you advertise it so people can book a meal. ⑥ The most amazing thing is all the advertising is done through websites. People set up tables in their sitting-room, or in a city car park, an empty factory — anywhere in fact. And because you know how many people you're cooking for, food doesn't get wasted.

M: So why is it good for you?

W: Well, various reasons. Like, I could buy all the things without risk because customers pay in advance. ⑦ The greatest advantage, though, is by having ten customers at most, I don't need to hire a waiter.

M: Do you ever run into problems?

W: The whole experience is fun. People watch you cook and the atmosphere's relaxed. ⑧ I did one meal on a beach which almost went wrong because I didn't think about the wind blowing sand into people's food. Fortunately, I'd brought a large umbrella to protect myself from the sun, so I put it around their table instead!

(Text 10)

M: My name's Bob, and I've come to tell you about the York Dance Band. Now, if you want to have a good family party, like a wedding or an important birthday, and you want all your guests to dance after dinner, then don't book a noisy disco. Have a live band instead. ⑨ We play all kinds of dance music, including songs that every age group, from teenagers to grandmothers, can dance to.

The band has been together for ten years, but I only joined this year. ⑩ Now the number of members has been increased from eight to twelve. I was looking for a band to join, and ⑪ a friend of mine saw an advertisement in the local paper and persuaded me to apply.

⑫ Before I joined, the band didn't have a separate singer, but they realized they needed one. They chose me because I've always enjoyed getting up and singing in front of an audience, and people say I've got a good voice. I've been in bands before. I even played the guitar rather badly in one, but this band is easily the best. I even enjoy the practices. Now, I'll just play a little.
