Sunrise

Playwright: Cao Yu

Sunrise is set in Tianjin in the 1930s. It centers on the tragedy of Chen Bailu. It discloses the social conflicts and unfortunate life of those living at the bottom of society at that time. The drama also expresses the longing for brightness indicated by the name and order of its four acts — dawn, dusk, midnight and sunrise.

Rickshaw Boy

Playwright: Mei Qian

The drama Rickshaw Boy is adapted from the novel of Lao She, a Chinese literary giant. It tells the sad story of Xiangzi, a rickshaw boy in Beijing in the 1920s who dreams of running his own firm. However, after a series of misfortunes, Xiangzi is no longer an honest and optimistic young country boy.

The Teahouse

Playwright: Lao She

Consisting of three acts, the play tells stories taking place in the Beijing Yutai Teahouse and the fate of Wang Lifa, the owner of the teahouse. It mirrors the great social changes in China from 1898 to the 1940s. The Teahouse is also the first Chinese drama production to be performed overseas.

Traveling with friends or family is always a fun bonding experience, and one of the best ways to do that is by taking a charter (租赁) bus. 36 .

Security and safety

37 . When hiring a bus, it is much harder for someone to steal it because there are not enough cars or people they can distract during an escape attempt. Additionally, some companies provide their security personnel on board their buses which adds an extra measure of safety for all passengers and the company itself.

38

When chartering a bus, you have more flexibility than renting cars or traveling by train. You'll also have the convenience of being able to specify precisely how much space and comfort everyone in your group needs during the trip, which is essential if there are mobility issues among some members of your party.

Comfort

If you're traveling with more than one or two people, there may be more comfortable ways to travel than staying in a car. 39 , especially if you're traveling long distances. The seating will be comfortable, and there will probably be many electrical outlets where you can plug your devices in.

Convenience

There are many advantages of booking a charter bus over a rental car when traveling with a group, but the biggest one is convenience. If you book a charter bus, the bus company will pick you up at your start location, drive you to your end location, and even wait for you at any place where you want to stop. 40 .

- A. Flexibility
- B. Room for personal belongings
- C. In short, the bus is your vehicle, and you can use it as you please
- D. The first reason is security when you travel with more than one person
- E. You just have to worry about having fun safely with other fellow travelers
- F. A chartered bus will give everyone in your group some much-needed comfort

My Favourite Food

第二节 (满分 25 分)

阅读下面材料, 根据其内容和所给段落开头语续写两段, 使之构成一篇完整的短文。

I got through another long, annoying day teaching high school English via Zoom. Upon reaching my office, I pulled up my work email. There was a message from a woman who I didn't know: Gigi Shepherd, who asked how she could join my class. "Was she a new teaching assistant?" I wondered. I'd never done any co-teaching. And I certainly wasn't interested in doing it now with a stranger.

The email must be a mistake. Before I could figure it out, the principal called. She explained that Ms. Shepherd had got the passcode that would grant(同意) her admittance to my Zoom space.

"It's good news!" the principal said. "Our district is trying to improve teachers' skills by placing experienced part-time teachers with new full-time educators. It means more help for you."

"Can't you put her in another classroom?" I said. "I'm just fine alone."

"The assignments have been made," she said. "This will be fine."

Deep down, I disliked changes. When things didn't go as I wanted, I tended to get anxious. That evening, I emailed the stranger, as I'd come to think of her, with directions for joining us online.

The next morning, my screen was filled with the image of Gigi's husband, as he helped her sign on. Gigi looked to be about my age. I put her on the spot, asking her to teach a lesson supporting the students' emotional needs. To my surprise, the students became cheerful and lively as Gigi led them in a discussion on ways to stay connected. "Remember-even when we're apart physically from friends and family, we needn't feel alone," she said in a breathy, sweet yet deliberate(从容的) voice, like a grade schoolteacher. And all the students responded. That was totally different from my teaching style.

Her kind words weren't reserved only for students. "What a wonderful lesson," she said before we signed off. "I really like the way you express yourself, Lori," she told me.

注意: 1. 续写词数应为 150 个左右;

2. 请按照图如下格式在答题卡的相应位置作答。

After school that day, Gigi and I got to know each other.

Since then, I had learned a lot from Gigi.
