The Person I Respect Most

When it comes to the person I respect most, the one that immediately emerges in my mind is Ren Zhengfei, a renowned Chinese enterpriser, the founder of Huawei.

Ren is a persistent individual with vision and determination. He is passionate about making contributions to social progress. Despite all the challenges and hardships, he is wholeheartedly committed to exploration and innovation in the science field. Due to his outstanding leadership, Huawei has become one of the largest companies of telecommunications equipment and smart devices.

To sum up, Ren Zhengfei is one of the most respectable and influential persons in my eyes. He is the man who has changed our understanding of perseverance and his stories have inspired so many young people.

The Person I Respect Most

The person I respect most is the geophysicist Huang Danian, who helped China to make many technological advances.

Huang was a remarkable scientist. He had studied and worked in Britain for 18 years, but when he felt that his country needed him, he gave up his well-paid job and returned to China. Over the next seven years, Huang worked to develop many devices needed for deep-Earth exploration.

Unfortunately, such achievements didn't come cheap. Due to the frantic pace of his research, Huang was absent from his father's funeral, and even his own cancer went undetected as he had no time to see a doctor. To sum up, Huang sacrificed everything for his research, and I think more people should honor him.

听力原文:

听第一段材料,回答第 1 至 3 题。

W: Mr. Johnson, may I talk to you for a minute?

M: Sure, what is it?

W: I'm worried about my grade in your physics class. I really want an A, but my job has kept me busy.

M: Well, so far you have a B average in your physics lesson. You'll need a 95 or above on your final exam to get an A.

W: Oh, it's too hard for me. Could you give me some advice on how to prepare for the exam?

M: Hmm. . . it's just a simple learning rule—work hard during the whole term instead of a last-minute rush.

W: Yes. That's the problem. When the exam is coming, I really don't have enough time to learn the materials of an entire course.

M: Yes. How are your grades in other subjects?

W: I got an A in chemistry, but I'll get a C in math.

M: There is still one month left for the exam. Make a plan and stick to it. Good luck.

Question 1: Why does the woman talk to the man?

Question 2: What does the man advise the woman to do?

Question 3: What subject did the woman get an A in?

听第二段材料, 回答第 4 至 6 题。

M: Miss Smith, you're a famous vlogger on the Internet. Other vloggers mainly focus on food or travel, but you are different. Why did you choose to focus on environment?

W: It's something that I've believed is important and I have strong interest in it. It's not connected with what I studied at university, so it isn't likely that I get advice from any of my classmates.

M: How did you feel when your videos first became successful?

W: I thought only a few people watched them regularly. But you see, how wrong I was about this. It's unbelievable.

M: What's your latest video about?

W: I've just finished a series encouraging more people to use buses and trains rather than cars.

Next I may move on to the world climate. I hope that can give people some ideas on recycling.

M: Hope you can make more and better videos. Thanks, Miss Smith.

Question 4: Why did the woman choose to focus on the environment?

Question 5: How did the woman feel when her online videos first became successful?

Question 6: What's the woman's latest video about?

听第三段材料, 回答第 7 至 10 题。

Hello, boys and girls. Here are the instructions for next weekend's camping trip. There are twenty-four people going on this trip. It's important that you arrive at the meeting point before 8:30 am, so that we'll be able to leave at 9:00 am. Please check your e-mail about the bus you will take on. According to the schedule, we are likely to arrive at the Sunshine Village to have lunch. Then we'll go to the Moon Hill where we will set up a total of six large tents. You can team up freely but make sure the number of people in each tent is the same. Choose a tent leader who went on this trip last year and therefore has the necessary experience. We are not expecting there to be very bad weather this weekend, but on Sunday afternoon, there will be some rain according to the weather forecast. We advise everyone to take a rain coat or an umbrella with you. OK, any other questions?

Question 7: When will the children leave for the trip?

Question 8: What will the children do at the Sunshine Village?

Question 9: How many tents will be set up on the Moon Hill?

Question 10: What may the weather be like on Sunday afternoon?
