Dear Smith,

I am Li Hua, monitor of Class One Grade Two. I'm writing to invite you to be the judge of our English debate competition themed "The Impact of Social Media on Learning".

Scheduled at 4:00 pm this Friday in the lecture hall of our school, the activity is intended to improve students' oral English and critical thinking ability. As planned, each group will present their arguments for or against social media's influence on learning within limited time. We hope your valuable comments will help us learn more about how to use social media properly in our study.

Looking forward to your reply at your earliest convenience.

Yours sincerely,

Li Hua

第二节(满分 25 分)

Just then, the gentleman in front of me smiled at me. His eyes were shining with kindness and empathy. Without a second thought, he turned to the cashier and said, "I'll cover her groceries." I was surprised by his generosity and struggled to find words to express my gratitude. As he swiped his credit card, a wave of relief washed over me. It was a small act of kindness, but it meant the world to me in that moment. With tears welling up in my eyes, I thanked him heartily, feeling overwhelmed by the goodness of strangers.

The next morning, my family knocked at the gentleman's door. We wanted to personally express our gratitude for his selflessness and repay his kindness. As he opened the door, we handed him a bouquet of flowers and a heartfelt thank-you note. He was visibly touched and invited us inside for a cup of tea. Sitting in his cozy living room, we shared stories and laughter, realizing that this chance encounter had brought us together. At that moment, I realized that sometimes the greatest blessings come in the form of unexpected friendships.
