

开封市 2023-2024 学年高二上学期期末调研考试

英语试题答案

第一部分 听力 1-5 BCABA      6-10 BCABB      11-15 ACBCB      16-20 CABCC
第二部分 阅读理解 21-23 DBC    24-27 BCAA    28-31 DBCB    32-35 ACAD    36-40 GBFCD
第三部分 语言运用
完形填空 41-45 ABCAC      46-50 BDDAD      51-55 DCBCA
语法填空 56. which    57. enthusiasm    58. have brought    59. a    60. surrounded
61. activities    62. waiting    63. in    64. Additionally    65. to appreciate

第四部分 写作

第一节 One possible version:

I Read, I Grow

Hi, everyone. Nothing is more enjoyable than holding a book. To me, it is a time of joy, peace, adventure, and exploration. I've read several books in high school, like The Kite Runner, Hatchet, The Old Man and the Sea, etc. They are on the themes of love, acceptance, and courage. The stories can always encourage me to move on in times of hardship.

Reading has benefited me in many ways. It enriches my life, equipping me with knowledge and making me a wise person.

That's all, thank you.

第二节 One possible version:

Coach Sawyer pulled all the players aside. Sawyer said to them, "I just want to say how proud you all made me today. I know some of you are kind of shaken up by the whole accident. The girl is just a teenager, like all of you. But you all did what you had to do to save someone's life." Before their game the next day, team members received some snacks and a thank-you note from their president of the school board.

This incident proved the win-loss record on Wednesday wasn't all that important. One Valley team won and the other lost, but Sawyer said to the players, "To be honest, we might not be the best baseball team around, but you sure are a great group of guys. You didn't even discuss what to do. You just went out there and did it. You were all raised right. Although we lost, it was the best game of the year." To these players, this accident was also a satisfying way to help finish their season.