M: Hello. International Friends Club. Can I help you?

W: Oh, hello. I read about your club in the paper today and I thought I'd phone to find out a bit more.

M: Yes, certainly. Well, we are a sort of social club for people from different countries. It's quite a new club we have about 50 members at the moment, but we are growing all the time.

W: That sounds interesting. I'm British actually, and I came to Washington about three months ago. I'm looking for ways to meet people. Er, what kinds of events do you organize?

M: Well, we have social get-togethers, and sports events, and we also have language evenings.

W: Could you tell me something about the language evenings?

M: Yes. Every day except Thursday we have a language evening. People can come and practice their languages you know, over a drink or something. We have different languages on different evenings. Monday Spanish; Tuesday Italian; Wednesday German; and Friday French. On Thursday we usually have a meal in a restaurant for anyone who wants to come.

W: Well, that sounds great. I really need to practice my French.

M: OK. Well, if you can just give me your name and address, I'll send you the form and some more information. If you join now, you can have the first month free.

We plan to hold the event from January 10th to February 12th at the Sky Site. We suggest an entrance fee of $10. You can also bring your children aged 12 or under. No admission charge for them. The site will be divided into six areas. In the center, there will be a flower show. It is a good place to take pictures. To the side of the flower show, there will be two areas for amusement rides. We will set up 30 rides in these areas. This year, there will be two new events—a fancy dress competition and an ice sculpture exhibition. We will set up a tent for the fancy dress competition. If you are good at designing clothes, bring your works to the competition. Finally, next to the entrance, there will be four food shops where visitors can enjoy food from around the world, such as Italian food, Chinese food, Japanese food, Mexican food and so on. We have attached a map for your reference. You can pick one up at the ticket office. That's all. Thank you.

Whether or not to reward children's progress with material things

Whether or not to reward children's progress with material things is widely debated. Those who support the idea argue that rewards teach children the value of hard work and encourage accomplishment. On the other hand, those who are against the idea suggest that material rewards can reduce self-motivation.

Personally, I believe that rewards have their place but should not be the only motivator. Instead, children should be taught that success is about personal growth, hard work and the joy of learning. Parents and educators must find a balance between rewarding progress and promoting a sense of pride in accomplishments. Ultimately, material rewards should not overshadow the value of the learning process itself.

I was finishing the last egg when I heard a knock at the door behind me. I led them in and couldn't help smiling when the first words out of my sister-in-law's mouth were, "Wow, your house is so tidy, and you even have time to wash eggs!" We entered the dining room and sat down at the table. As I excused myself to go back into the kitchen to get the coffee and put the delicious bread on a platter, I heard them whispering that they didn't understand how I did it with five kids. I felt such a wonderful sense of satisfaction and a big smile spread across my face.

But that smile was short-lived when my oldest son ran through the front door. With a look of shock on his face, he loudly asked, "Mom, who cleaned the house?" My mouth fell open, and I did what any mother of a smart-mouthed teenager would do. I cleverly suggested, "Sit down and have some of Grandma's delicious banana bread, son!" Then I quickly changed the subject and gave my son a warning look. He received my signal and went to greet his grandma and aunt with a big smile.
