Dear Mike,

How is everything going? From your letter, I know you are interested in our “optional study”. It’s seriously important for each senior student in China, which will directly affect our major choice in Entrance Examination to University. I choose physics.

Firstly, with the advancement of technology, physics has become increasingly important in various industries. So, having a degree in physics can open up many career opportunities for me in the future. Secondly, studying physics can also broaden my perspective and enhance my problem-solving skills, which can be applied not only to physics-related fields but also to other areas of life.

Hope to receive your letter soon.

Yours sincerely,

Li Hua

第二节（满分 25 分）

The next day, Marco returned to his canvas. This time, he closed his eyes and let his mind wander to the park, to the old man, and to the conversation they had. He thought about the peace and calm within the chaos of his city and the unseen stories of the people who lived there. With a deep breath, Marco began to paint, not what he saw, but what he felt. He painted the serenity of the park, the wisdom in the old man’s eyes, and the dance of the pigeons. He painted the soul of the city, not its appearance.

The time presenting his portfolio came soon. With no doubt, Marco’s final piece was met with awe. It was more than just a painting; it was a narrative, a piece of his heart, a glimpse into the unseen beauty of the world around him. Just like the old man’s words: “Inspiration is everywhere, in every moment, in every encounter. We just need to open our hearts to it.” Marco learned to look beyond the surface and see the unseen canvas that the world offered. He found his true voice as an artist.
