Humour Brightens Life

As is known to all, humor is of great significance to our life. Without it, many things in our lives would lose their color.

When I first came to the school, I was a little nervous. Fortunately, my humor helped me quickly integrate into the new environment and get along well with my classmates. So I think humor is something that we can't attach enough importance to.

Light up your every day with humor, which will open the door to a new world for you!

第二节

One possible version:

Ken Darby, manager of Huot House, told me to move toward life. One of the first things I did when I got settled was get my electronic keyboard out of storage and set it up in the TV room at Huot House. I'd play for hours, totally lost in the music. After listening to the music I played, Ken told me about The Paul Hazelton House for seniors and the disabled, where a "Day of Caring" was held every year.

I went to volunteer for the "Day of Caring" held by The Paul Hazelton House. I played several songs for the seniors and disabled there. Music, the universal medium that had helped me, was also a joy to others. People gathered around my electronic keyboard, clapping and singing. As I played the music, I thought back to what I had experienced. I realized how blessed I'd been that people had stepped up and helped me when I couldn't see how to help myself. They took me in, encouraged me to make music and put me back on the right path.

听力部分录音稿

(Text 1)

W: Who does the housework in your family?

M: My mother does the most. She cooks, washes the dishes and so on. My father just sweeps the floor. And I do the gardening.

(Text 2)

M: Did you have a nice time in Portugal? I bet you spent every day lying in the sun on the beach.

W: No! The weather was bad. It was so wet and cold. I actually thought it was going to snow.

M: Did it snow?

W: No, it just rained the whole week.

(Text 3)

M: Professor Smith, I'm confused by my final grade since I did so well on the last few tests.

W: Well, I've been known to make mistakes in the past. Let's see... yes, your attendance record for this term was low. That's the reason for your low grade.

(Text 4)

W: What do you think of reading the old poems?

M: It always takes me a while to work out what old poems like that are about, but that's what I like about them.

W: Well, I can't help wondering why the poet made it so long.

(Text 5)

W: We have several flats that are available. But this one is good for you. It's quite large, basically.

M: Is it furnished?

W: No, you have to bring your own furniture.

(Text 6)

W: Hey, I sent you a text message. Did you get it?

M: Oh, I haven't checked yet.

W: What are you doing?

M: I'm watching a new music video.

W: Really? On your cell phone?

M: Yeah, a friend sent it to me. Check it out!

W: Wow! That's pretty cool, and in color, too!

M: Yeah, and the sound quality is perfect. But the screen is a little bit small. Could you move your head a little?

W: Oh, OK.

(Text 7)

W: Mr. Wood, when will you be available for the interview appointment?

M: I'll be in the office until I leave for the meeting in Madrid to discuss the new product this Wednesday. I think I can do the interview on Tuesday.

W: Oh, I have to participate in the monthly managers' meeting all day on Tuesday, so that won't work for me.

Why don't we plan the interview for Monday? It'll be good to hire someone as soon as possible.

M: OK.

(Text 8)

M: Hi, Jenny, I just got a call from Mr. Brown. He's not happy.

W: What's the matter? Is there anything wrong?

M: He's a little upset that he hasn't received his travel arrangements.

W: That's strange. I e-mailed the arrangements to him on Monday.

M: Really? Are you sure you sent it to the right address?

W: Yes, I got it directly from his company's website. I'll call Mr. Brown to let him know that I'll print out a hard copy and fax it to his office right away.

(Text 9)

M: Mrs. Black, I find everyone is very busy now.

W: Yes, Jack. We're a little short of staff this evening since Nicole and Jane are off today.

M: Oh, no wonder. Can I do anything to help?

W: Oh, you're so nice. In fact I'm asking the trainees to help out. Could you work for Sarah to serve food to the guests in the Diamond Room?

M: Sure, no problem. But will there be enough people to help with the seating in the garden?

W: I think Megan can handle it with the rest of the staff and I can help out if necessary.

M: That's good.

W: Anyway, Jack, if you need me, just give me a call. Now I'll be attending the meeting down in the Grand Hall.

M: OK. I'll go and change into a uniform at once.

(Text 10)

M: Hello, everyone. I'm a big fan of films about the spy James Bond. I've got most of them on DVD. I've recently bought Quantum of Solace, in which Daniel Craig plays the part of Bond. It's a great movie. All the actors who've played James Bond have been great, but Daniel Craig, who's made lots of other films, plays the part better than any of the others. Even though he doesn't talk very much, I think he's the perfect actor for the role. He even does a few of the more dangerous things in the film himself, instead of getting someone else to do them. I did wonder sometimes in the film whether he'd be clever enough to defeat the bad people, but I'm not going to tell you the ending! The actress who stars with Craig gives a fantastic performance, too. I loved all the stylish clothes she wore! The director probably had a hard job making this film as full of action as the earlier ones. But the excitement starts right at the beginning here, with a car crash along a mountain road, and plenty of other thrilling scenes. Unfortunately, I found the story difficult to follow sometimes, and it also seemed to be over very quickly—it lasted under two hours. I also felt there weren't as many jokes as in the old Bond films. And where was all the ridiculous Bond equipment—the underwater car or exploding watch that everyone laughed at? This is a more serious, darker Bond film, but I still really enjoyed it.
