第四部分 写作（共三节，满分 70 分）

第一节 One possible version:

Dear David,

I am reaching out to seek your guidance regarding my English language improvement efforts.

Currently, I would describe my English skills as above average, often scoring around 85% on tests. However, I sometimes struggle to express my thoughts using ordinary words effectively. I am eager to further advance my English abilities and I believe reading novels can be an effective method to achieve this goal. I would greatly appreciate it if you could kindly suggest some books that are well suited for my level.

Thank you in advance for your time and assistance.

Yours,

Li Hua

第二节 One possible version:

Then, about 45 minutes later, I saw a tall figure, moving quickly toward me in the dark, carrying a flashlight. I'd never been more relieved to see someone in my life. It was André Bouvier, who was fighting the wind and snow all the way to get me. "I want you to follow me in your car. You'll be OK", he said. I drove slowly behind him, feeling my heart begin to beat more slowly.

We reached the house at last, I driving slowly behind André & Bouvier. When I got out of the car, I burst into tears, all my fears turning into relief and gratitude. There, I met the other two families. We all spent the night telling stories, the kids ate the pizza I'd bought, and we slept scattered around the house, on sofas and long chairs. The experience has been a game changer for me. I now approach challenges with a sense of calm I'd not known before. But best of all, it brought André into my life. We're still in touch, and I know we'll be friends forever.
